Judge Threatens To Jail FBI Men If Probe Arises

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Georgia judge threatened to jail federal civil rights investigators Friday in a labyrinth of Southern racial developments.

A Government suit filed at Columbus, Ga., the first under the 1957 Civil Rights Act, aroused the ire of Superior Court Judge Walter I. Geer of Colquitt, Ga.

The jurist, in keeping with Georgia law, had appointed five Terrell County election registrars whom the suit charged with discriminating against prospective Negro voters.

In a statement, Geer called the suit an "arrogant, unwarranted, high-handed" attempt of "radical Republican leaders to intimidate the people of Terrell County."

If the FBI, in prosecuting the suit, makes any "high-handed, menacing" investigation of his court, he declared, "I will not hesitate to put them in the common jail of the county."

In the meantime there were pointed, if relatively minor, school integration developments in Virginia, Arkansas and Tennessee.

At Harrisonburg, Va., U. S. Judge John Paul advised the Warren County School Board it could not bar Negroes from the county's white high school. He did not order immediate admission but said that since the county lacks a Negro high school it must admit Negroes to the white school. School board officials countered by showing him blueprints for a half-million-dollar Negro high school.

ARK. STRIKE

At Van Buren, Ark., about 50 segregationist white students apparently succeeded in keeping Negroes out of the high school for the day but their boast that others would join them in a boycott fell flat. None of the 13 Negro students was seen to enter the school. But only a few recruits joined the striking students.

Stairstep integration, inaugurated last year, continued without incident at Nashville, Tenn. Nine or more second-grade Negro children registered routinely for another year of integrated classes. Earlier 15 first graders had registered for mixed classes under a court-directed plan of integrating one grade a year.

In a racial development at Montgomery, Ala., the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., Negro integration leader of long standing, chose a 14-day jail term rather than pay a $14 fine for what he declared was a trumped-up police charge. But his fine was paid anonymously and he was released abruptly.

King, who led Montgomery's successful bus boycott two years ago, had been arrested on a charge of refusing too obey a police order to move from a stairway outside a courtroom where a hearing was being held on attempted murder charges involving two other Negroes.

Gunboats Aim More Threats At Fishermen

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—Icelandic gunboats Friday stepped up their harrassment tactics inside Iceland's asserted 12 - mile territorial waters. They threatened to board two British trawlers and jammed the fishing boats radios.

United Press International Correspondent Glenne Currie reported from the British trawler Lord Beatty that the Icelandic gunboats Maria Julia and Thor steamed alongside the trawlers Lancella and St. Nectan for about half an hour.

The gunboats stayed within 35 feet of the trawlers while crewmembers in life-jackets stood on the gunwales ready to jump.

They jammed the tralwers' radios in an attempt to prevent them from summoning aid from the British frigates which have been protecting them in the North Atlantic "fish war."

The trawler Lancella managed to contact the fishery protection vessel Eastbourne, the flagship of the British Navy escort ships, an the Eastbourne replied:

VOW STAND

"If they try any funny business we will be there."

However, both the Lancella and the St. Nectan took evasive action until the Icelandic gunboats sailed away.

Currie reported the trawler captains were showing increasing concern over the poor catch inside the 12-mile limit and that some had moved outside in the hope of getting more fish.

However, he said official British

Reuther Enters Strike Meeting; 18,000 Are Idle

DETROIT (UPI) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther entered the bogged-down auto negotiations Friday in the midst of new and violent strike activity which boosted to more than 18,000 the number of workers off the job at "big three" plants.

Reuther returned to the bargaining table at General Motors Friday morning and said he would also sit in on talks at Ford and Chrysler before he reports to a "public jury" next Tuesday on the status of negotiations.

The UAW's International Executive Board is scheduled to meet next Wednesday to set a strike deadline and pick a strike target if there is no progress in the negotiations by that time.

"I'm here today to present the facts as objectively as we know how," Reuther said as he entered GM bargaining room for his first appearance at negotiations since three - year pacts between the UAW and the "big three" expired at the end of May.

Reuther indicated he would call for a marathon weekend bargaining session if GM "is willing to bargain in good faith and talk about solving problems."

Russia Threats Total Warfare In Far East

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) —Communist Chinese artillery lobbed shells into the Quemoys Friday after Red warplanes made two combatless forays west of the off-shore Matsu Islands in a day made tense by total-war threats of Soviet Russia.

The Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry here said there was a possibility the Red Chinese may be able to clamp an absolute blockade against the already badly hemmed - in Quemoy Islands. Its spokesman said that "there is a limit beyond which Nationalist ships cannot solve the blockade problem."

The blockade bombardment went into its 14th consecutive day but slackened. The invasion-threatened twin islands of Tatan and Ehrtan received 30 shells in a 10-minute barrage starting at 10:35 p.m. Eighteen hours earlier, 60 rounds landed on little Quemoy in a predawn attack.

Death Order Brings Note From Dulles

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has written Gov. James E. Folsom expressing world - wide concern over the Alabama death sentence imposed on a Negro for a $1.95 robbery, it was learned Friday.

One source close to the governor said that Dulles told Folsom that "U. S. embassies all over the world are in an uproar" over the case.

However, neither the governor's office nor the State Department in Washington would release the text of the letter. But the State Department, confirmed a United Press International report here that the communication had been sent.

The Negro, Jimmy Wilson, 55 was sentenced to death for the robbery of an elderly white widow in her home. Under Alabama law, night-time robbery of an inhabited dwelling is a capital offense.

The news of the letter came shortly after Folsom, under pressure to grant clemency to Wilson, admitted that Alabama's penal system "is the worst in the world."

'WORST SYSTEM'

"I admit that we have got the worst penal system in the world including dark Africa," said Folsom "I hope the next legislature will do something about improving the si[illegible]"

Thousands of letters from throughout the world have poured into Folsom's office for the past several weeks demanding he grant clemency to Wilson.

The Negro was scheduled to die in the electric chair at Kilby prison here early Friday, but the Alabama Supreme Court failed to make a decision on his appeal for a re-hearing of the case, automa-

USE ATOM SUBS

Ice Cap Freight Route Suggested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The skipper of the atomic submarine Nautilus declared Friday the ice-covered Arctic Ocean could be used for fast commercial shipping as soon as nuclear cargo - carrying submarines were available.

Cmdr. W. R. Anderson said in a speech at the National Press Club that his ship's historic cruise under the Polar ice and across the North Pole showed the feasibility of Polar operations in the atomic age.

"When nuclear power (cargo) submarines come into being," he said, "I believe this route will be feasible for such vessels."

He expressed doubt that anyone was qualified to guess when commercial passenger service beneath the Arctic ice might begin. But he said trips to the Arctic by U. S. submarines soon would become "pretty much a matter of routine."

Asked whether the Nautilus had gone under, over or through the North Pole on its recent trip, Anderson said one expert told him the ship had "pierced the pole, so I guess we went through it."

He said that peculiarities in Polar ice formations, discovered by the Nautilus and its sister ship, the Skate, indicated that mid-winter might be the best time for making a sub-Arctic cruise from the Atlantic into the Pacific.

Anderson explained that in the summer, the approaches to the ice cap from the Pacific were cluttered with coastal ice that had broken away from Siberia, Alaska and Northern Canada. He said this ice "can cause trouble."

Atom Weapons Might Enter, Russia Warns

MOSCOW (UPI)—The government newspaper Izvestia warned America today that Communist China is "an integral part of the mighty socialist camp" and that the whole Communist bloc would aid Red China — possibly with atomic weapons — if war developed in the Far East.

The Communist Party organ Pravda, the Army Organ Red Star, and other elements of the Soviet Press echoed the warning. Diplomats here analyzing the editorials concluded that war against Communist China would be considered as war against the Soviet Union itself.

They said the Izvestia statement that Russia would aid Red China "with all possible means at its disposal" implied that the Soviet Union would use atomic weapons if the United States should employ them.

CHARGES PROVOCATION

The Soviet premier, who met with Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse Tung in Peiping last month, knows just where the Red Chinese stand. Accompanied by Soviet defense minister Rodion Malinovsky, Khrushchev discussed a broad range of world affairs with the Chinese political and military leaders.

Under the headline "End American Provocation in the Far East," Izvestia said:

"It would not hurt American ruling circles to remember that the Chinese People's Republic is not alone but is an integral part of the mighty socialist camp.

"The Chinese People's Republic has such friends and allies as the Soviet Union, which in case of necessity will aid it with all possible means at its disposal, just

British Police Arrest 150 In Racial Rioting

LONDON (AP) — British police have arrested 150 persons in London and Nottingham race rioting, Home Secretary Richard A. Butler disclosed Friday night.

Butler is the Cabinet minister responsible for maintaining law and order in the country.

His disclosure came at a political meeting where he said the government has "no intention of allowing extremist elements to take advantage of any situation."

British trade union leaders hinted earlier that Sir Oswald Mosley's old Fascist group is stirring up attacks on West Indian and other nonwhite immigrants to Britain.

Prime Minister Macmillan and his Cabinet were under notice from nonwhite commonwealth countries that immigration curbs won't bring any solution. The government at midweek had hinted such curbs were being considered. Mosley's group is calling for restrictions.

Leading Cabinet ministers conferred at No. 10 Downing St. on the ugly outbreaks.

Butler reported immigration of non-white workers to Britain increased recently at the same time as a local demand for unskilled labor had slackened. The immigrants numbered 200,000 at the end of July, 110,000 of them from Pakistan and India, he said. Their unemployed was set at 1,700.

REGISTRAR'S AID POSTS BOND

Long's Hometown Locks Doors To Investigators

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

WINNFIELD—Gov. Earl K. Long's hometown Friday literally locked up its doors to Sen. W. M. Rainach's special Legislative Committee investigating illegal voter registration.

Even the governor skedaddled from his native stronghold while the Sheriff's Department scanned the tall timber country for officials who were not to be found.

Then the Grand Jury emerged from an all-day session, nailed down a window to the records and ordered an around-the-clock guard on the Registrar's doors.

And Rainach disclosed he has information that a Negro woman employed by Long was chauffeured to the Winn courthouse in a Cadillac limousine by a State Trooper and registered to vote.

By early night the Sheriff R. S. Jordan climaxed an all-day search for Deputy Registrar J. L. Ferguson and placed him under a $500 bond.

MISSING

But still missing was Registrar Mrs. Mary Flournoy, who skipped out ahead of the subpoenas "to visit a sick relative in Mississippi."

In Derby Alexandria, newsmen reported that congressional candidate Harold B. McSween planned to use the Winnfield probe as political ammunition against the governor who supported state Rep. Lloyd Teekell for the post.

Meanwhile, Rainach said the day's activities left him "determined to bring this matter before the full Joint Legislative Committee." He had "no comment" to make on Long's appearance here Thursday.

The unorthodox moves of the disappearing Winn officials, which Rainach said "astounded" him, was calmly accepted around the courthouse.

Integration, Far East Cut Ike's Resting

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower will interrupt his seaside vacation Saturday for White House conferences on the Far East and the school integration situations.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty announced at the summer White House that Eisenhower will meet in Washington at 11:30 a.m. with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers to discuss various matters before the courts on the subject of integration.

Hagerty declined further details, but the meeting obviously will take into consideration the impending Supreme Court ruling on whether integration at Little Rock, Ark., Central High School should be started at once or delayed 2½ years.

It was announced earlier that Eisenhower would lunch Saturday with Secretary of State Dulles. The main topic naturally will be the Chinese Communist threat to Nationalist-held islands in the Formosa Strait and what this country proposes to do about it.

Secret Vehicle Fired Over Fla.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A highly classified air-to-ground rocket test vehicle was fired from a jet plane as it flew over the cape Friday.

The Air Force announced that the test was part of an air-to-ground missile development program that occasionally makes use of the instrumentation facilities at the Atlantic missile test range.

No other details on the test were announced. The type of aircraft used and the identity of the missile were not known immediately.

There have been reports that the Air Fores's latest air-to-surface weapon, the Hound Dog, has been tested off the cape, but there have been no announcements.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

May Try Webster On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (Special) — Reports circulated in Washington Friday that Webster Parish may be next on the list of localities in which the Justice Department will invoke the civil rights act to halt alleged voting registration abuses.

The action would be similiar to one in Terrell County, Ga. where Justice Department agents sought an injunction charging the voting registrars with "arbitrary refusal to register Negroes."

The injunction was the first asked under the Civil Rights Act of 1957.

A Justice Department spokesman, queried about the Webster parish report, said only that "five or six" counties were being investigated.

It was learned unofficially, however, that Webster Parish had been under consideration as a spot for the first injunction, but a last-minute switch made Terrell County the test case.

In both the Georgia County and the Louisiana Parish, grand juries failed to find fault with local officials in Civil rights cases, but the situations were not exactly parallel.

England Views 2,000 M.P.H. Ship For 150 Riders

FARNBOROUGH, England (UPI) — Britain is considering plans for a Ramjet superairliner that could carry 150 passengers from London to New York at 2,000 miles an hour in two hours time, Arnold Hall, chairman of Bristol-Siddeley Engines Co., announced Friday.

Hall, who as director of the Royal Aircraft establishment here solved the problem of metal fatigue in the Comet jet airliner, revealed the plans to newsmen at the Farnborough Air Show.

He said the plane probably would have six conventional jet engines for take-offs and landings and two Ramjet engines to provide the tremendous cruising speed at 80,000 feet.

PROBABLY OCT. 11

Moon Shot Delayed Until Next Month

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department disclosed Friday that there has been at least a month's postponement in this country's next attempt to fire a rocket to the moon.

Defense officials said the next try probably would come Oct. 11.

The second attempt had been set at least tentatively, for Saturday, Sept. 13. But the department said in an announcement that it was "unlikely any attempt will be made in September."

There was no official explanation for the postponement. But authorities said the Air Force had not been able to get a second launching vehicle ready for a new attempt.

The first American effort to shoot a rocket to the vicinity of the moon ended in failure on Aug. 17 when the first stage Thor rocket blew up 10 miles in the sky after a 77-second flight.

The Defense Department announcement said:

"In response to inquiries, the Department of Defense said today that the date of the next test flight of a United States IGY (International Geophysical Year) space exploration vehicle in the lunar probe program has not been determined, but that it is unlikely any attempt will be made in September."

September 13 was the next date when the moon would be in best position, about 220,000 miles away for an effort to launch a vehicle that would reach its vicinity and become a moon satellite.

High Tides Big Threat Along Path

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — The western side of tropical storm Ella struck inland Friday night along the upper Texas coast with blinding rain squalls.

Winds up to 48 miles an hour hit Galveston. The main force of the storm was expected to hit about 200 miles around the curve of the coast to the southwest between midnight and 1 a. m. c.s.t.

Forecasters expected the brunt of the storm, with winds up to 70 miles an hour, to bore inland just north of Corpus Christi.

A 10 p.m. advisory on tropical storm Ella issued by weather observers at New Orleans said:

"Gale warnings are displayed from Corpus Christi to Galveston. Small craft along Texas-Louisiana coasts should remain in port.

STORM AREA

"The central storm area is 100 miles east of Corpus Christi moving west-northwest at 15 m.p.h.

"Gulf squalls will continue Saturday with up to five-inch rains."

The strongest winds reported in Ella were five miles less than minimum hurricane strength and forecasters said Ella is not likely to develop hurricane force.

As Ella moved inland with its 40-70 mile-an - hour winds, twin squall waves in the West Indies threatened to develop into a new storm. Reconnaissance planes from San Juan, P. R., investigated the new disturbance.

Ella's chief threat appeared to be from tides, expected to reach a height of four to six feet from Corpus Christi to Sabine, Tex., later Friday.

Between 1,000 and 1,500 persons had left, or planned to leave Port Aransas, on the south edge of Mustang Island southeast of Corpus Christi. The weather bureau expected the tide to cover the island.

Pilots flew the planes out of Matagorda Air Force Base Thursday. The harbor at Matagorda was packed with shrimp boats, though the season opened Thursday.

At the eastern end of the Texas coast, 25 or 30 persons out of the 1,200 in the adjoining towns of Sabine and Sabine Pass left for Port Arthur and Beaumont.

Officials expected the storm to raise the Gulf of Mexico seven feet. Hurricane Audrey, which killed more than 500 persons at Cameron, La., in June, 1957, pushed a nine-foot wall of water ahead of it in the Sabine - Sabine Pass area.

Lunch Probers Move To North La. On Monday

COVINGTON, La. (AP) — The special legislative committee investigating the statewide school lunch program opens a new series of hearings in north Louisiana Monday.

Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa, chairman of the committee, has not made public the exact location of the next hearing.

The third series of hearings in southeast Louisiana has just been completed here with testimony from officials of the St. Tammany Parish school system and Catholic schools of Covington.

Henry W. Mayfield, supervisor of instruction of the St. Tammany public schools, told the committee the quality of lunches had gone up since 1956.

Asked whether the Nautilus had gone under, over or through the North Pole on its recent trip, Anderson said one expert told him the ship had "pierced the pole, so I guess we went through it."

He said that peculiarities in Polar ice formations, discovered by the Nautilus and its sister ship the Skate, indicated that mid-winter might be the best time for making a sub-Arctic cruise from the Atlantic into the Pacific.

Anderson explained that in the summer, the approaches to the ice cap from the Pacific were cluttered with coastal ice that had broken away from Siberia, Alaska and Northern Canada. He said this ice "can cause trouble."

Atom Weapons Might Enter, Russia Warns

MOSCOW (UPI)—The government newspaper Izvestia warned America today that Communist China is "an integral part of the mighty socialist camp" and that the whole Communist bloc would aid Red China — possibly with atomic weapons — if war developed in the Far East.

The Communist Party organ Pravda, the Army Organ Red Star, and other elements of the Soviet Press echoed the warning. Diplomats here analyzing the editorials concluded that war against Communist China would be considered as war against the Soviet Union itself.

They said the Izvestia statement that Russia would aid Red China "with all possible means at its disposal" implied that the Soviet Union would use atomic weapons if the United States should employ them.

CHARGES PROVOCATION

The Soviet premier, who met with Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse Tung in Peiping last month, knows just where the Red Chinese stand. Accompanied by Soviet defense minister Rodion Malinovsky, Khrushchev discussed a broad range of world affairs with the Chinese political and military leaders.

Under the headline "End American Provocation in the Far East," Izvestia said:

"It would not hurt American ruling circles to remember that the Chinese People's Republic is not alone but is an integral part of the mighty socialist camp.

"The Chinese People's Republic has such friends and allies as the Soviet Union, which in case of necessity will aid it with all possible means at its disposal, just

British Police Arrest 150 In Racial Rioting

LONDON (AP) — British police have arrested 150 persons in London and Nottingham race rioting, Home Secretary Richard A. Butler disclosed Friday night.

Butler is the Cabinet minister responsible for maintaining law and order in the country.

His disclosure came at a political meeting where he said the government has "no intention of allowing extremist elements to take advantage of any situation."

British trade union leaders hinted earlier that Sir Oswald Mosley's old Fascist group is stirring up attacks on West Indian and other nonwhite immigrants to Britain.

Prime Minister Macmillan and his Cabinet were under notice from nonwhite commonwealth countries that immigration curbs won't bring any solution. The government at midweek had hinted such curbs were being considered. Mosley's group is calling for restrictions.

Leading Cabinet ministers conferred at No. 10 Downing St. on the ugly outbreaks.

Butler reported immigration of non-white workers to Britain increased recently at the same time as a local demand for unskilled labor had slackened. The immigrants numbered 200,000 at the end of July, 110,000 of them from Pakistan and India, he said. Their unemployed was set at 1,700.

REGISTRAR'S AID POSTS BOND

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

WINNFIELD—Gov. Earl K. Long's hometown Friday literally locked up its doors to Sen. W. M. Rainach's special Legislative Committee investigating illegal voter registration.

Even the governor skedaddled from his native stronghold while the Sheriff's Department scanned the tall timber country for officials who were not to be found.

Then the Grand Jury emerged from an all-day session, nailed down a window to the records and ordered an around-the-clock guard on the Registrar's doors.

And Rainach disclosed he has information that a Negro woman employed by Long was chauffeured to the Winn courthouse in a Cadillac limousine by a State Trooper and registered to vote.

By early night the Sheriff R. S. Jordan climaxed an all-day search for Deputy Registrar J. L. Ferguson and placed him under a $500 bond.

MISSING

But still missing was Registrar Mrs. Mary Flournoy, who skipped out ahead of the subpoenas "to visit a sick relative in Mississippi."

In Marby Alexandria, newsmen reported that congressional candidate Harold B. McSween planned to use the Winnfield probe as political ammunition against the governor who supported state Rep. Lloyd Teekell for the post.

Meanwhile, Rainach said the day's activities left him "determined to bring this matter before the full Joint Legislative Committee." He had "no comment" to make on Long's appearance here Thursday.

The unorthodox moves of the disappearing Winn officials, which Rainach said "astounded" him, was calmly accepted around the courthouse.

Old-time political observers, tak-

Integration, Far East Cut Ike's Resting

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower will interrupt his seaside vacation Saturday for White House conferences on the Far East and the school integration situations.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty announced at the summer White House that Eisenhower will meet in Washington at 11:30 a.m. with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers to discuss various matters before the courts on the subject of integration.

Hagerty declined further details, but the meeting obviously will take into consideration the impending Supreme Court ruling on whether integration at Little Rock, Ark., Central High School should be started at once or delayed 2½ years.

It was announced earlier that Eisenhower would lunch Saturday with Secretary of State Dulles. The main topic naturally will be the Chinese Communist threat to Nationalist-held islands in the Formosa Strait and what this country proposes to do about it.

Secret Vehicle Fired Over Fla.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A highly classified air-to-ground rocket test vehicle was fired from a jet plane as it flew over the cape Friday.

The Air Force announced that the test was part of an air-to-ground missile development program that occasionally makes use of the instrumentation facilities at the Atlantic missile test range.

No other details on the test were announced. The type of aircraft used and the identity of the missile were not known immediately.

There have been reports that the Air Fores's latest air-to-surface weapon, the Hound Dog, has been tested off the cape, but there have been no announcements.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

May Try Webster On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (Special) — Reports circulated in Washington Friday that Webster Parish may be next on the list of localities in which the Justice Department will invoke the civil rights act to halt alleged voting registration abuses.

The action would be similiar to one in Terrell County, Ga. where Justice Department agents sought an injunction charging the voting registrars with "arbitrary refusal to register Negroes."

The injunction was the first asked under the Civil Rights Act of 1957.

A Justice Department spokesman, queried about the Webster parish report, said only that "five or six" counties were being investigated.

It was learned unofficially, however, that Webster Parish had been under consideration as a spot for the first injunction, but a last-minute switch made Terrell County the test case.

In both the Georgia County and the Louisiana Parish, grand juries failed to find fault with local officials in Civil rights cases, but the situations were not exactly parallel.

England Views 2,000 M.P.H. Ship For 150 Riders

FARNBOROUGH, England (UPI) — Britain is considering plans for a Ramjet superairliner that could carry 150 passengers from London to New York at 2,000 miles an hour in two hours time, Arnold Hall, chairman of Bristol-Siddeley Engines Co., announced Friday.

Hall, who as director of the Royal Aircraft establishment here solved the problem of metal fatigue in the Comet jet airliner, revealed the plans to newsmen at the Farnborough Air Show.

He said the plane probably would have six conventional jet engines for take-offs and landings and two Ramjet engines to provide the tremendous cruising speed at 80,000 feet.

Moon Shot Delayed Until Next Month

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department disclosed Friday that there has been at least a month's postponement in this country's next attempt to fire a rocket to the moon.

Defense officials said the next try probably would come Oct. 11.

The second attempt had been set at least tentatively, for Saturday, Sept. 13. But the department said in an announcement that it was "unlikely any attempt will be made in September."

There was no official explanation for the postponement. But authorities said the Air Force had not been able to get a second launching vehicle ready for a new attempt.

The first American effort to shoot a rocket to the vicinity of the moon ended in failure on Aug. 17 when the first stage Thor rocket blew up 10 miles in the sky after a 77-second flight.

The Defense Department announcement said:

"In response to inquiries, the Department of Defense said today that the date of the next test flight of a United States IGY (International Geophysical Year) space exploration vehicle in the lunar probe program has not been determined, but that it is unlikely any attempt will be made in September."

September 13 was the next date when the moon would be in best position, about 220,000 miles away for an effort to launch a vehicle that would reach its vicinity and become a moon satellite.

High Tides Big Threat Along Path

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — The western side of tropical storm Ella struck inland Friday night along the upper Texas coast with blinding rain squalls.

Winds up to 48 miles an hour hit Galveston. The main force of the storm was expected to hit about 200 miles around the curve of the coast to the southwest between midnight and 1 a. m. c.s.t.

Forecasters expected the brunt of the storm, with winds up to 70 miles an hour, to bore inland just north of Corpus Christi.

A 10 p.m. advisory on tropical storm Ella issued by weather observers at New Orleans said:

STORM AREA

"The central storm area is 100 miles east of Corpus Christi moving west-northwest at 15 m.p.h.

"Gulf squalls will continue Saturday with up to five-inch rains."

The strongest winds reported in Ella were five miles less than minimum hurricane strength and forecasters said Ella is not likely to develop hurricane force.

As Ella moved inland with its 40-70 mile-an - hour winds, twin squall waves in the West Indies threatened to develop into a new storm. Reconnaissance planes from San Juan, P. R., investigated the new disturbance.

Ella's chief threat appeared to be from tides, expected to reach a height of four to six feet from Corpus Christi to Sabine, Tex., later Friday.

Between 1,000 and 1,500 persons had left, or planned to leave Port Aransas, on the south edge of Mustang Island southeast of Corpus Christi. The weather bureau expected the tide to cover the island.

Pilots flew the planes out of Matagorda Air Force Base Thursday. The harbor at Matagorda was packed with shrimp boats, though the season opened Thursday.

At the eastern end of the Texas coast, 25 or 30 persons out of the 1,200 in the adjoining towns of Sabine and Sabine Pass left for Port Arthur and Beaumont.

Officials expected the storm to raise the Gulf of Mexico seven feet. Hurricane Audrey, which killed more than 500 persons at Cameron, La., in June, 1957, pushed a nine-foot wall of water ahead of it in the Sabine - Sabine Pass area.

Lunch Probers Move To North La. On Monday

COVINGTON, La. (AP) — The special legislative committee investigating the statewide school lunch program opens a new series of hearings in north Louisiana Monday.

Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa, chairman of the committee, has not made public the exact location of the next hearing.

The third series of hearings in southeast Louisiana has just been completed here with testimony from officials of the St. Tammany Parish school system and Catholic schools of Covington.

Henry W. Mayfield, supervisor of instruction of the St. Tammany public schools, told the committee the quality of lunches had gone up since 1956.

Long's Home Town Locks Out Probers

But several of the public officials were openly nervous and denied the usage of their offices to reporters. In more than one case, newsmen were told, "We don't want any publicity."

But despite the blockades which prevented Rainach from continuing his investigation, he vowed he would return and said he was convinced the Winn Registrar has conducted "illegal procedures" in registering voters.

He said he had already seen enough proof that "illegal procedures" were used in registering voters between Aug. 24-27, shortly after the first Democratic Election in which Long took an active part.

Citing the case of Long's Negro employee, Rainach identified her as Picola Parker and explained that she was driven to the courthouse from the governor's farm by Sgt. C. C. Butler, State Police.

He said the 1958 black Cadillac limousine bore license No. 10,000, which checked out to be that of the governor's. He said the troopers had been subpoenaed before the Grand Jury.

EXPLOSIVE

The Homer senator, president of the Louisiana Citizens Council and watchdog segregationist, directed the explosive report toward Long after his petition to enter the locked Registrar's office was turned down in Eighth Judicial District Court.

Judge Allen said he didn't believe the court had authority to grant Rainach's requests. His denial came at the end of a day of waiting that started when Rainach found the Registrar's office closed and the officials missing.

He and the Grand Jury had issued the subpoenas late Thursday, shortly after Mrs. Flournoy failed to re-appear at her office after lunch.

Rainach, committee counsel W. M. Shaw, Homer, and investigator J. T. McKeithen, Summerfield, moved into Winnfield Thursday and began the investigation at the "request of members of the Winn Citizens Council."

Dist. Atty. Sam Wells of Colfax issued the bench warrant for Ferguson after the Deputy Registrar disappeared early Friday. Members of his family said they hadn't seen him since "early this morning."

His re-appearance on the scene did little to clear up the question of Mrs. Flournoy's whereabouts, Jordan said. He said Ferguson "didn't have anything to say" when the bench warrant was served last night.

Rainach began the probe Thursday morning with the help of Mrs. Flournoy, but found her office closed when he returned after lunch. "She said she would be back," Rainach explained.

With both voter officials absent and their office locked Friday morning, Rainach and Shaw drew up a petition requesting the Court to open the office where his photostatic machine and personal belongings had been left from the day before.

ACTION

Although he was unable to enter the office, Rainach heard the Grand Jury take the following action:

1. To convene again Monday at 9 a.m.

2. To post an around-the-clock guard at the doors of the Registrar's office.

3. To bar all persons except those authorized persons to enter the Registrar's office.

Rainach said in addition to the case of the Negro woman, he had reports of another instance in which a man who is totally disabled is registered with his residence in Washington, D.C.

"And we found a number of cards written in one hand and signed in another," Shaw said.

Rainach said, "The purpose of this investigation is to determine whether or not there has been any illegal registering of voters. Integration and registering run hand-in-hand."

"If you'd register all unqualified persons, you'd have no government," he added.

Recover Body From River At Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The body of a teen-aged mother who leaped to her death in the Red River after a spat with her husband was recovered when it floated to the surface Friday in the wake of a passing barge.

Airman 1.C. Joseph Cameron Sr. of Barksdale Air Force Base identified the body of that of his wife, 19-year-old Patricia. The couple, who had a six-month-old son, were natives of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Cameron said he and his wife had an argument yesterday and she left the house. A short time later several persons reported they had seen a woman fitting Mrs. Cameron's description leap from an 80-foot bridge into the water.

Miss. Taxes During Aug. Show Gains

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippians paid $6,315,855 in taxes during August, more than a half a million dollars greater than the tax collections during August 1957.

Chairman Noel Monaghan of the State Tax Commission said Friday the August total swelled to $60,481,048 the total tax take for the state treasury during the first eight months of 1958.

Monaghan listed the August 1957 collections for the general fund at $5,651,165 and the total revenue for January-August 1957 as $58,950,180.

State tax officials also collected $407,580 during August as the cities' share of the ½ per cent retail sales tax. The August 1957 collections totaled $331,553.

Taxes which showed a drop under the August 1957 collections totaled $331,553.

Taxes which showed a drop under the August 1957 collections were:

Admissions, $34,810 and $36,201; Franchise $26,968 and $38,860; gas severance $98,901 and $105,786; statewide privilege $48,923 and $52,496; slot music machine privilege $10,925 and $12,957; oil severance $587,720 and $641,473; and timber severance $32,123 and $42,882.

Encephalitis Outbreak Hits In New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Outbreaks of encephalitis in the Las Cruces area of southern New Mexico caused Gov. Edwin Mechem to proclaim a state of emergency Friday. He called out the National Guard at Las Cruces to institute control measures.

Three deaths have been attributed to the brain fever in southern New Mexico and 17 cases have been diagnosed as encephalitis subject to confirmation by laboratory tests.

Mechem's action followed an emergency meeting in Santa Fe between public health officials and National Guard officers.

The guardsmen are to man vehicles and mosquito spraying equipment in the Las Cruces area Spraying was to start Saturday.

Authorities were trying to locate flame throwers to burn brush along mosquito-infested drainage ditches.

State Health Director Stanley J. Leland said he does not consider the Dona Ano County situation an epidemic. He indicated he feels the situation can be controlled within .. month. But he also said there could be serious results if proper control measures are not taken quickly.

Leland stressed the cases of encephalitis which have occurred so far in New Mexico cannot be called "sleeping sickness." He said a more appropriate common name for the disease would be brain fever.

Negro Pupils Fail To Show At Van Buren

VAN BUREN, Ark. (UPI) — Thirteen Negro students stayed out of Van Buren High School Friday rather than provoke about 60 white students striking against integration.

There was no indication whether the Negroe planned to try to go to school later or whether they were going to try to take legal action against the strikers.

Van Buren segregationists telegraphed Gov. Orval E. Faubus in Little Rock again for help.

"On behalf of Van Buren's senior and junior high, things are getting serious here," the telegram said. "We need help immediately. Please give us an answer at the Coffee House Cafe, Van Buren, Ark. — Parents of junior and senior high."

"Reports I have had from observers on the grounds indicate there is very little trouble," Faubus said. "I don't think anything is going to develop. They seem to think that things will quiet down."

Faubus said he had no plan to go to Van Buren or to sign any of the anti-integration bills the legislature passed last week "for the next few days."

White Boy Hurt In Fight Over Negro Friend

PHILADELPHIT (AP) — A white boy was injured Thursday night in a revenge fight against a gang he accused of beating a Negro pal.

The boy, Fred Erthel, 15, was in fair condition Friday at Temple University Hospital with head injuries and body bruises.

Erthel's friend, unidentified by police, was beaten last week by boys believed to be members of a Negro gang called the Tiogats.

Erthel and four white companions, seeking revenge, arranged a meeting in a schoolyard with members of the gang. Three youths were there last night.

Erthel stepped forward to meet the trio and a fight started. Erthel's friends ran to help him. Two shots rang out. All the boys fled, leaving Erthel dazed on the concrete school yard.

Detectives arrested two 15-year-old boys in connection with the fight. They were William Moritt and Roosevelt Williams. They both denied having a gun which Erthel's companions said the others had.

Erthel had been living for a week at a Catholic churchh orphan's home. Home officials said he had come there after trouble between his mother and father.

Atom Weapons Might Enter, Russia Warns

as if its own fate were being decided."

Pravda said the "ruling circles in Washington are increasingly resorting to deliberately pushing humanity to the brink of military catastrophe."

It said the "organizers and inspirers of this new adventure in the Far East will experience such a crushing rebutt that it will end imperialist aggression in the Far East."

"The aggressors must know," Red Star said, "that the Soviet Union will offer the Chinese People's Republic the necessary moral and material aid in its just struggle in their tribulations. Let those who so frivolously dream of defeating China remember that."

The blasts in the press followed reports that Nikita S. Khrushchev had interrupted a Crimean holiday to return to Moscow "on urgent matters."

Pravda said the United States had assigned Formosa the role of main base in "aggressive plans" against the Chinese mainland and had earmarked Quemoy and other offshore islands as the "springboard for attack." It added:

"The U.S.S.R. cannot remain inactive in the face of what is happening on the borders of the territory of her great ally."

Russia, it said, "will not watch quietly U.S. military preparations in the Pacific" whose waters "also wash Soviet shores." Russia would give the Chinese Reds "every kind of aid to bridle the adventurous war provocateurs, who have grown insolent and rash."

It warned that the United States should harbor no illusions that a counterblow could "restrict itself to the area of the offshore islands and the Formosa Strait."

Army Reveals Production Plan For Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has announced plans for a 35-million-dollar program for quantity production of the new M14 Springfield rifle and the M60 machine gun.

The Army said Friday that the Defense Department had given the production go-ahead.

A pilot production line has been established at the Springfield, Mass., Arsenal in preparations for mass commercial production.

The announcement of commercial production culinated a development and test program which ultimately will arm U.S. soldiers and Marines with a new family of weapons.

The new Springfield rifle and the machine gun replace seven of the small arms currently used in Army line units. The Army said the new weapons fulfill "a long step toward modernization of U.S. ground forces."

ing their positions on steps and lawn chairs, appeared amused as they watched the investigators and remaining officials scurry in and out.

But several of the public officials were openly nervous and denied the usage of their offices to reporters. In more than one case, newsmen were told, "We don't want any publicity."

But despite the blockades which prevented Rainach from continuing his investigation, he vowed he would return and said he was convinced the Winn Registrar has conducted "illegal procedures" in registering voters.

He said he had already seen enough proof that "illegal procedures" were used in registering voters between Aug. 24-27, shortly after the first Democratic Election in which Long took an active part.

Citing the case of Long's Negro employee, Rainach identified her as Picola Parker and explained that she was driven to the courthouse from the governor's farm by Sgt. C. C. Butler, State Police.

He said the 1958 black Cadillac limousine bore license No. 10,000, which checked out to be that of the governor's. He said the trooper had been subpoenaed before the Grand Jury.

EXPLOSIVE

The Homer senator, president of the Louisiana Citizens Council and watchdog segregationist, directed the explosive report toward Long after his petition to enter the locked Registrar's office was turned down in Eighth Judicial District Court.

Judge Allen said he didn't believe the court had authority to grant Rainach's requests. His denial came at the end of a day of waiting that started when Rainach found the Registrar's office closed and the officials missing.

He and the Grand Jury had issued the subpoenas late Thursday, shortly after Mrs. Flournoy failed to re-appear at her office after lunch.

Rainach, committee counsel W. M. Shaw, Homer, and investigator J. T. McKeithen, Summerfield, moved into Winnfield Thursday and began the investigation at the "request of members of the Winn Citizens Council."

Dist. Atty. Sam Wells of Colfax issued the bench warrant for Ferguson after the Deputy Registrar disappeared early Friday. Members of his family said they hadn't seen him since "early this morning."

His re-appearance on the scene did little to clear up the question of Mrs. Flournoy's whereabouts, Jordan said. He said Ferguson "didn't have anything to say" when the bench warrant was served last night.

Rainach began the probe Thursday morning with the help of Mrs. Flournoy, but found her office closed when he returned after lunch. "She said she would be back," Rainach explained.

With both voter officials absent and their office locked Friday morning, Rainach and Shaw drew up a petition requesting the Court to open the office where his photostatic machine and personal belongings had been left from the day before.

ACTION

Although he was unable to enter the office, Rainach heard the Grand Jury take the following action:

1. To convene again Monday at 9 a.m.

2. To post an around-the-clock guard at the doors of the Registrar's office.

3. To bar all persons except those authorized persons to enter the Registrar's office.

Rainach said in addition to the case of the Negro woman, he had reports of another instance in which a man who is totally disabled is registered with his residence in Washington, D.C.

"And we found a number of cards written in one hand and signed in another," Shaw said.

Rainach said, "The purpose of this investigation is to determine whether or not there has been any illegal registering of voters. Integration and registering run hand-in-hand."

"If you'd register all unqualified persons, you'd have no government," he added.

The former farm hand was convicted of robbing Mrs. Estelle Barker at Marion, Ala., the evening of July 27, 1957 in rural Perr, County.

Mrs. Barker testified during the trial that Wilson, who had worked in her yard on several occasions, attempted to rape her after he scooped up the loose money which she had dumped out on the coverlet of her bed. Wilson was not charged with rape.

Negro Pupils Fail To Show At Van Buren

VAN BUREN, Ark. (UPI) — Thirteen Negro students stayed out of Van Buren High School Friday rather than provoke about 60 white students striking against integration.

There was no indication whether the Negroe planned to try to go to school later or whether they were going to try to take legal action against the strikers.

Van Buren segregationists telegraphed Gov. Orval E. Faubus in Little Rock again for help.

"On behalf of Van Buren's senior and junior high, things are getting serious here," the telegram said. "We need help immediately. Please give us an answer at the Coffee House Cafe, Van Buren, Ark. — Parents of junior and senior high."

"Reports I have had from observers on the grounds indicate there is very little trouble," Faubus said. "I don't think anything is going to develop. They seem to think that things will quiet down."

Faubus said he had no plan to go to Van Buren or to sign any of the anti-integration bills the legislature passed last week "for the next few days."

White Boy Hurt In Fight Over Negro Friend

PHILADELPHIT (AP) — A white boy was injured Thursday night in a revenge fight against a gang he accused of beating a Negro pal.

The boy, Fred Erthel, 15, was in fair condition Friday at Temple University Hospital with head injuries and body bruises.

Erthel's friend, unidentified by police, was beaten last week by boys believed to be members of a Negro gang called the Tiogats.

A juvenile aid detective gave this account:

Erthel and four white companions, seeking revenge, arranged a meeting in a schoolyard with members of the gang. Three youths were there last night.

Erthel stepped forward to meet the trio and a fight started. Erthel's friends ran to help him. Two shots rang out. All the boys fled, leaving Erthel dazed on the concrete school yard.

Detectives arrested two 15-year-old boys in connection with the fight. They were William Moritt and Roosevelt Williams. They both denied having a gun which Erthel's companions said the others had.

Erthel had been living for a week at a Catholic churchh orphan's home. Home officials said he had come there after trouble between his mother and father.

Army Reveals Production Plan For Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has announced plans for a 35-million-dollar program for quantity production of the new M14 Springfield rifle and the M60 machine gun.

The Army said Friday that the Defense Department had given the production go-ahead.

A pilot production line has been established at the Springfield, Mass., Arsenal in preparations for mass commercial production.

The announcement of commercial production culinated a development and test program which ultimately will arm U.S. soldiers and Marines with a new family of weapons.

The new Springfield rifle and the machine gun replace seven of the small arms currently used in Army line units. The Army said the new weapons fulfill "a long step toward modernization of U.S. ground forces."

Recover Body From River At Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The body of a teen-aged mother who leaped to her death in the Red River after a spat with her husband was recovered when it floated to the surface Friday in the wake of a passing barge.

Airman 1.C. Joseph Cameron Sr. of Barksdale Air Force Base identified the body of that of his wife, 19-year-old Patricia. The couple, who had a six-month-old son, were natives of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Cameron said he and his wife had an argument yesterday and she left the house. A short time later several persons reported they had seen a woman fitting Mrs. Cameron's description leap from an 80-foot bridge into the water.

as if its own fate were being decided."

Pravda said the "ruling circles in Washington are increasingly resorting to deliberately pushing humanity to the brink of military catastrophe."

It said the "organizers and inspirers of this new adventure in the Far East will experience such a crushing rebutt that it will end imperialist aggression in the Far East."

"The aggressors must know," Red Star said, "that the Soviet Union will offer the Chinese People's Republic the necessary moral and material aid in its just struggle in their tribulations. Let those who so frivolously dream of defeating China remember that."

The blasts in the press followed reports that Nikita S. Khrushchev had interrupted a Crimean holiday to return to Moscow "on urgent matters."

Pravda said the United States had assigned Formosa the role of main base in "aggressive plans" against the Chinese mainland and had earmarked Quemoy and other offshore islands as the "springboard for attack." It added:

"The U.S.S.R. cannot remain inactive in the face of what is happening on the borders of the territory of her great ally."

Russia, it said, "will not watch quietly U.S. military preparations in the Pacific" whose waters "also wash Soviet shores." Russia would give the Chinese Reds "every kind of aid to bridle the adventurous war provocateurs, who have grown insolent and rash."

It warned that the United States should harbor no illusions that a counterblow could "restrict itself to the area of the offshore islands and the Formosa Strait."

Miss. Taxes During Aug. Show Gains

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippians paid $6,315,855 in taxes during August, more than a half a million dollars greater than the tax collections during August 1957.

Chairman Noel Monaghan of the State Tax Commission said Friday the August total swelled to $60,481,048 the total tax take for the state treasury during the first eight months of 1958.

Monaghan listed the August 1957 collections for the general fund at $5,651,165 and the total revenue for January-August 1957 as $58,950,180.

State tax officials also collected $407,580 during August as the cities' share of the ½ per cent retail sales tax. The August 1957 collections totaled $331,553.

Taxes which showed a drop under the August 1957 collections totaled $331,553.

Taxes which showed a drop under the August 1957 collections were:

Admissions, $34,810 and $36,201; Franchise $26,968 and $38,860; gas severance $98,901 and $105,786; statewide privilege $48,923 and $52,496; slot music machine privilege $10,925 and $12,957; oil severance $587,720 and $641,473; and timber severance $32,123 and $42,882.

GRENADE MISFIRES

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—A hand grenade misfired at a weapons demonstration at an army post in Vinh Long Province and killed five persons, reports reaching here Thursday said. Seven other persons were injured, four critically.

Encephalitis Outbreak Hits In New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Outbreaks of encephalitis in the Las Cruces area of southern New Mexico caused Gov. Edwin Mechem to proclaim a state of emergency Friday. He called out the National Guard at Las Cruces to institute control measures.

Three deaths have been attributed to the brain fever in southern New Mexico and 17 cases have been diagnosed as encephalitis subject to confirmation by laboratory tests.

Mechem's action followed an emergency meeting in Santa Fe between public health officials and National Guard officers.

The guardsmen are to man vehicles and mosquito spraying equipment in the Las Cruces area. Spraying was to start Saturday.

Authorities were trying to locate flame throwers to burn brush along mosquito-infested drainage ditches.

State Health Director Stanley J. Leland said he does not consider the Dona Ano County situation an epidemic. He indicated he feels the situation can be controlled within a month. But he also said there could be serious results if proper control measures are not taken quickly.

Leland stressed the cases of encephalitis which have occurred so far in New Mexico cannot be called "sleeping sickness." He said a more appropriate common name for the disease would be brain fever.

Long Attacks Paper; Hits At '34 Club'

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Governor Earl K. Long, speaking before nearly 2,000 persons at opening ceremonies for Louisiana State University in New Orleans Friday, attacked his political enemies and the New Orleans Times Picayune.

The governor, introduced as "the icing on the cake," launched out at once against opponents of tax raises in the recent legislative session.

Long then condemned the "Thirty-Four-Club" in the legislature and Louis J. Roussel who with the Orleans Levee Board was fired when they refused to lease the entire Naval Air Station site to L.S.U. for the New Orleans branch. Roussel had contended only a part was needed.

"I came down here to prove to you people that I'm just a human being," Long said. "You probably didn't even think I was a human being if you read the Picayune."

Long said the amount of money appropriated for the branch wasn't his fault. "I did my duty," he said. If it was up to me I'd have given you $1,600,000."

The "Thirty-Four Club" which Long mentioned was made up of legislators who blocked tax raises.

Contending that he did his duty, Long said he had antagonized the oil, gas and sulphur industries and former political friends to make LSUNO a reality.

The New Orleans branch opened its initial session Friday with an orientation of three days for freshmen.

Cangelosi said that when LSUNO inaugurates its sophomore year in 1959-60 it will have reached its utmost capacity of buildings now available.

No upper class students were enrolled at this opening term of the new branch of L.S.U. on the lakefront but officials plan to add a class a year until a four-year institution is attained.

Classes start on Sept. 12 at the school for which the 1956 Legislature provided the first funds. The site formerly was the lakefront Naval Air Station and is almost a complete city.

It has its own auditorium, club, infirmary, chapel, power plant and classroom buildings.

The approximately 1,500 freshmen were welcomed by President Troy H. Middleton of L.S.U., Dr. Homer L. Hitt, dean of the New Orleans branch and other speakers.

Dr. Middleton told the distinguished audience, which included top state officials, legislators and educators that L.S.U. is entering a new academic era and that he anticipated that the new branch would take nothing away from distinguished educational institutions already flourishing in New Orleans

He mentioned Loyola University of the South and Tulane University.

Pres. Middleton said L.S.U. in New Orleans starts out as a modified arts college and will expand as facilities are provided and student demands dictate.

State Highways To Save Money On Insurance

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Highway Director R. B. Richardson said Friday his department will save $10,570 this year on auto liability coverage on 2,857 motor vehicles.

The department paid $111,047 for coverage through the year ending Aug. 20.

Times Associate Editor Undergoes Major Operation

SHREVEPORT (Special) —Donald M. Ewing, associate editor of the Shreveport Times, was reported resting well in a local hospital yesterday afternoon following major surgery Thursday.

Necessity of the operation was revealed when Ewing entered the hospital Wednesday morning for X-ray.

Hospital attendants said that as a result of the surgery he will remain in the hospital for about two weeks, then will be moved to his home for four weeks of rest.

J. Wilbur Usrey Dies; Services Scheduled Today

Services for J. Wilbur Usrey, 42, of Monroe, will be held today at 10 a.m. from the Mulhearn Funeral Chapel with the Revs. Ralph Cain and Ben Oliphint officiating. Burial by Mulhearn will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Usrey died early yesterday at a local hospital. He had lived at 1014 Civic Street and was an independent building contractor. He was a veteran of World War II, a Mason, and member of the Scottish Rites, Shriners and the Monroe Home Builders Association.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Josephine Horne Usrey; two daughters, Jo Ann and Sherry, all of Monroe; a brother, Johnny Usrey Jr., Monroe; two sisters, Mrs. L. M. Hudson, Monroe, and Mrs. M. L. Hendricks, Sterlington; three nieces and three nephews.

These Gowns 'Exclusive' In 3 Counts

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. UPI —A crisis that could shake the fashion world developed at the Miss America pageant Friday. Three contestants discovered they have identical "exclusive" evening gowns.

To make matters worse, two of the three have another ball gown, cut from the same piece of cloth and in the same pattern.

The three involved in this embarrassing situation are Miss Iowa, Joanne Lucille MacDonald, 20; Miss New Mexico, Lois Fay Wilson, 19, and Miss South Dakota, Carolee L. Nelson, 20.

Before they came to Atlantic City, the three shopped for the most beautiful gowns they could find to wear in the evening gown competition at the pageant.

All three were told the gown was an exclusive copy of a $5,000 Paris model. The dress turned out to be merely exclusive in each of the girls' home towns-a one-to-a town arrangement. No one had suspected the dresses would ever turn up in the same place, especially the Miss America contest.

Suspension Revoked; Man Jailed In La.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. J. P. Coleman Friday revoked the indefinite suspension of sentence of Noel Duncan who served two years of a 2½-year grand larceny sentence from Webster County.

Coleman said he revoked the suspension because Dunday was serving a term in Franklin, La., on a bad check conviction.

Long Attacks Paper; Hits At '34 Club'

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Governor Earl K. Long, speaking before nearly 2,000 persons at opening ceremonies for Louisiana State University in New Orleans Friday, attacked his political enemies and the New Orleans Times Picayune.

The governor, introduced as "the icing on the cake," launched out at once against opponents of tax raises in the recent legislative session.

Long then condemned the "Thirty-Four-Club" in the legislature and Louis J. Roussel who with the Orleans Levee Board was fired when they refused to lease the entire Naval Air Station site to L.S.U. for the New Orleans branch. Roussel had contended only a part was needed.

"I came down here to prove to you people that I'm just a human being," Long said. "You probably didn't even think I was a human being if you read the Picayune."

Long said the amount of money appropriated for the branch wasn't his fault. "I did my duty," he said. If it was up to me I'd have given you $1,600,000."

The "Thirty-Four Club" which Long mentioned was made up of legislators who blocked tax raises.

Contending that he did his duty, Long said he had antagonized the oil, gas and sulphur industries and former political friends to make LSUNO a reality.

The New Orleans branch opened its initial session Friday with an orientation of three days for freshmen.

Cangelosi said that when LSUNO inaugurates its sophomore year in 1959-60 it will have reached its utmost capacity of buildings now available.

No upper class students were enrolled at this opening term of the new branch of L.S.U. on the lakefront but officials plan to add a class a year until a four-year institution is attained.

Classes start on Sept. 12 at the school for which the 1956 Legislature provided the first funds. The site formerly was the lakefront Naval Air Station and is almost a complete city.

It has its own auditorium, club, infirmary, chapel, power plant and classroom buildings.

The approximately 1,500 freshmen were welcomed by President Troy H. Middleton of L.S.U., Dr. Homer L. Hitt, dean of the New Orleans branch and other speakers.

Dr. Middleton told the distinguished audience, which included top state officials, legislators and educators that L.S.U. is entering a new academic era and that he anticipated that the new branch would take nothing away from distinguished educational institutions already flourishing in New Orleans

He mentioned Loyola University of the South and Tulane University.

Pres. Middleton said L.S.U. in New Orleans starts out as a modified arts college and will expand as facilities are provided and student demands dictate.

State Highways To Save Money On Insurance

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Highway Director R. B. Richardson said Friday his department will save $10,570 this year on auto liability coverage on 2,857 motor vehicles.

The department paid $111,047 for coverage through the year ending Aug. 20.

Record Price Paid Here For Bale Of Cotton

A record price of 90 cents a pound was paid for the first Ouachita Parish bale of cotton this season when it was auctioned off yesterday afternoon.

J .Y. Pipes, who owns the land and is the grower of the 438-pound bale, received $394.20 paid by Harry Silverstein and Meyer Glazer of The Style Shop.

The auction, sponsored by the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, had 21 firms which gave a total of $200 as premium support.

They were Frances Hotel, Virginia Hotel, Central Oil and Supply, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., Auto Dealers Association, Cotton States Chemical Co., Federal Compress, Gay's Clothing Store, George V. Raymond, Marks Cotton, J. F. Stone, Guy DuPriest, Tyner-Petrus, Sears Roebuck and Co., J. C. Penny Co., Central Bank, Ouachita Bank, The Palace, Silverstein's, the Chamber of Commerce, and the retail merchants division of the Chamber.

Mrs. Harrison Dies; Services Are Scheduled

Funeral services for Mrs. C. P. Harrison, 89, mother of a local prominent businessman, will be held at 2 p.m. today at the First Baptist Church in Arcadia.

Mrs. Harrison, daughter of a pioneer North Louisiana family, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Campbell in Shreveport. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Cornelius Shivley of Liberty Hill and a member of the First Baptist Church there.

The Rev. Don Harbuck, Dr. Claude Caldwell and Reverend Boo Peyton will conduct the services. Burial will follow in the Liberty Hill Cemetery under the direction of Conger Funeral Home.

The body will lie in state at her home at 407 S. Myrtle St. in Arcadia until two hours before the service.

Mrs. Harrison is survived by five sons, O. D. Harrison, and Luther Harrison, both of Shreveport; Claude Harrison, Monroe; W. C. Harrison, Bienville; Charles Harrison, Starkville, Miss.; four daughters, Mrs. J. L. Campbell Shreveport; Mrs. Sessions Fore, Arcadia; Mrs. J. M. Tompkins, New Orleans; Mrs. Gordon Randolph, Colfax; a brother, Francis Marion Shively, Bienville; 11 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

Her grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

Times Associate Editor Undergoes Major Operation

SHREVEPORT (Special) —Donald M. Ewing, associate editor of the Shreveport Times, was reported resting well in a local hospital yesterday afternoon following major surgery Thursday.

Necessity of the operation was revealed when Ewing entered the hospital Wednesday morning for X-ray.

Hospital attendants said that as a result of the surgery he will remain in the hospital for about two weeks, then will be moved to his home for four weeks of rest.

J. Wilbur Usrey Dies; Services Scheduled Today

Services for J. Wilbur Usrey, 42, of Monroe, will be held today at 10 a.m. from the Mulhearn Funer Chapel with the Revs. Ralph Cain and Ben Oliphint officiating. Burial by Mulhearn will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Usrey died early yesterday at a local hospital. He had lived at 1014 Civic Street and was an independent building contractor. He was a veteran of World War II, a Mason, and member of the Scottish Rites, Shriners and the Monroe Home Builders Association.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Josephine Horne Usrey; two daughters, Jo Ann and Sherry, all of Monroe; a brother, Johnny Usrey Jr., Monroe; two sisters, Mrs. L. M. Hudson, Monroe, and Mrs. M. L. Hendricks, Sterlington; thre nieces and three nephews.

These Gowns 'Exclusive' In 3 Counts

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. UPI —A crisis that could shake the fashion world developed at the Miss America pageant Friday. Three contestants discovered they have identical "exclusive" evening gowns.

To make matters worse, two of the three have another ball gown, cut from the same piece of cloth and in the same pattern.

The three involved in this embarrassing situation are Miss Iowa, Joanne Lucille MacDonald, 20; Miss New Mexico, Lois Fay Wilson, 19, and Miss South Dakota, Carolee L. Nelson, 20.

Before they came to Atlantic City, the three shopped for the most beautiful gowns they could find to wear in the evening gown competition at the pageant.

All three were told the gown was an exclusive copy of a $5,000 Paris model. The dress turned out to be merely exclusive in each of the girls' home towns-a one-to-a town arrangement. No one had suspected the dresses would ever turn up in the same place, especially the Miss America contest.

Suspension Revoked; Man Jailed In La.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. J. P. Coleman Friday revoked the indefinite suspension of sentence of Noel Duncan who served two years of a 2½-year grand larceny sentence from Webster County.

Coleman said he revoked the suspension because Dunday was serving a term in Franklin, La., on a bad check conviction.

Safety For Children

Numbers alone do not make up the horror and revulsion associated with traffic fatalities. Some types of accidents appear worse than others and arouse more feeling. One of the worst is the careless killing or maiming of a school child.

We may become accustomed to automobile accidents in which several persons are killed or to airplane accidents in which scores may lose their lives. In the first instance there may be joint responsibility and in the second such factors as weather conditions, mechanical difficulties and unavoidable human errors may be involved.

When a child is struck and killed or injured near a school or while he is waiting for a bus or leaving a bus or crossing a street it is difficult to find any way in which to relieve the driver of blame. Knowing that children must do all of these things to reach school and that they cannot be expected to act with the same care and discretion that an adult might exercise, the driver is charged with the full responsibility of seeing that no such accident occurs.

Generally good records have been established in Monroe, West Monroe and throughout northeast Louisiana in the matter of safety for school children. Despite this, some such accidents have occurred in the northeast Louisiana area in recent years. It is the duty of every driver to do his utmost to eliminate such accidents.

In the vicinities of schools the law provides for 15-miles-per-hour zones. This means the maximum speed at which a driver may travel during or near school hours. If it is necessary to travel at a slower rate to assure safety the law intends safety shall be preserved.

Some additional police officers have been provided to assist children in crossing the streets near the schools. This helps because the officers are able to halt traffic completely while the children make the crossings.

A careful and responsible driver will take the same precautions when an officer is not present and will give the children an opportunity to cross.

One thing that needs to be stressed in this connection is that children are to be found not only on the heavily traveled streets but on other streets as well. Accidents are sometimes more likely to occur on little-traveled streets because the drivers are less careful and because the children do not expect speeding on these streets.

We should strive for a perfect record this school term in protecting the lives of children.

'Don'ts' Won't Pay Off

Any idea that atomic development will cease simply because nuclear energy can be used as a devasting method of war or because of worldwide bans is not only futile but ridiculous. Atomic development, in one form or another, will continue and it remains to be seen whether international agreements will have any effect on the use of such energy for war.

This theory was aptly expressed by Dr. Edward Teller, known as the father of the H-bomb, who encountered some hostility when he urged peaceful use of nuclear explosives at the second International Atoms for Peace Conference in Geneva. Dr. Teller indicated he did not favor a test ban for peaceful purposes. He said:

"I do not believe agreements not to do something will last, even if they are made. I believe the future of the world lies in agreements that begin with 'do.' I doubt if the future of the world lies with agreements that begin with 'don't.'

Additional evidence that the United States does not favor abandonment of the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes was given by Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby, who described a large number of peacetime uses for nuclear blasts. He told the 5,000 delegates to the 69-nation conference. "We must forever grasp the helping hand the atom extends us." Mr. Libby said his statement represented U. S. government policy.

About the best that can be said for the present conferences proposing to ban the use of atomic weapons in war is that they show a desire on the part of the participating nations for peace. It is doubtful if anyone really thinks a ban on the use of nuclear weapons would be observed by all nations if the world should become embroiled in another all-out war.

When American and Russian forces were closing in on a desperate Adolf Hitler near the end of World War II the German dictator had been hoping desperately for development of the atomic bomb in time to avert defeat. His desperation finally became so great that he reportedly committed suicide. Can anyone doubt that under those circumstances, when his whole ambition was to conquer the world, that he would have broken any agreement that might have existed on the use of weapons.

Agreement on a ban on the use of atomic tests for war purposes may serve some useful purpose by encouraging a more general ban on weapons and on war itself. By a system of inspections, the manufacturer of atomic weapons could be limited and possibly eliminated for the time being.

Any assumption by the United States that Russia won't use atomic weapons if it decides to make war on us would be suicidal.

Meantime, great increases in population and advances along many lines make it imperative that all sources of energy and power be developed to their fullest so that the people on the earth can be sustained. We cannot agree not to make progress.

VERNON LOUVIERE

Horsepower Race Blamed In Rising Toll Of Death

Congress is willing to investigate almost anything but there seems to be little likelihood it will go through with a threat to call Detroit on the carpet for engaging in a horsepower race.

There have been statements from time to time by individual Congressmen that the automobile industry should be summoned to Washington to explain why auto makers are trying to outdo one another in boosting horsepower with each new model that rolls off the assembly line.

This horsepower race, the lawmakers have insisted, contributed directly to the rising toll of death and destruction on the nation's highways. Detroit, on the other hand, has consistently maintained that the driver — and not pepped-up automobiles — is to blame in practically every accident.

More often than not the industry has placed itself in the position of defending itself against such charges rather than take a different and certainly more positive approach of telling the American public what it has done to bring about greater safety on the highway.

The magazine "Highway Highlights," published by the National Highway Users Conference, makes this point in discussing how the industry is spending tremendous sums of money on research to turn out cars that are as safe as humanly possible. Richard Reilly, editor of the magazine toured Detroit's vast automotive empire recently, talked with numerous safety engineers, and came out with some observations that bear noting.

In interviewing automotive officials, Reilly said, he found they generally agreed that the industry has not done enough in publicizing its own achievements in producing safer vehicles. One explained, "We do a wonderful job talking about the styling of our cars, but when it comes to our safety accomplishments, we've sure kept our light under a bushel."

Last spring a special committee of the Governors' Conference went to Detroit to see for itself what action — if any — the industry was taking to make automobiles safer. This committee had questioned why seat belts and other safety apparatus were not standard equipment on all car models. And they wanted to know what was behind the horsepower race.

After watching demonstrations for three days, demonstrations in which automobiles were put through every safety test imaginable, the governors admitted they were astounded. Said one of the state leaders, "I tell you I've never been so impressed." And another commented, "We've been surprised to find out just how much is being done. We think the industry is doing a fine job of saving lives."

One thing the governors did learn, according to Reilly, is that horsepower and excessive speed are not necessarily related. A 90-horsepower automobile can be driven almost as fast as a 250-horsepower machine. Safety engineers told Reilly that high horsepower actually should be regarded as a safety feature. In a tight squeeze when one car is trying to pass another rapid acceleration can spell the difference between passing safely and colliding with an oncoming vehicle.

When it comes to installing safety features such as seat belts on automobiles the car manufacturer compares himself with a doctor: you can tell a person what's good for him but you can't force him to follow your advice. One auto maker installed safety belts as standard equipment in all his cars a few years back but the buyers simply weren't interested. Some buyers even asked that the belts be removed and dealers were forced to complain to the manufacturer to stop installing the belts.

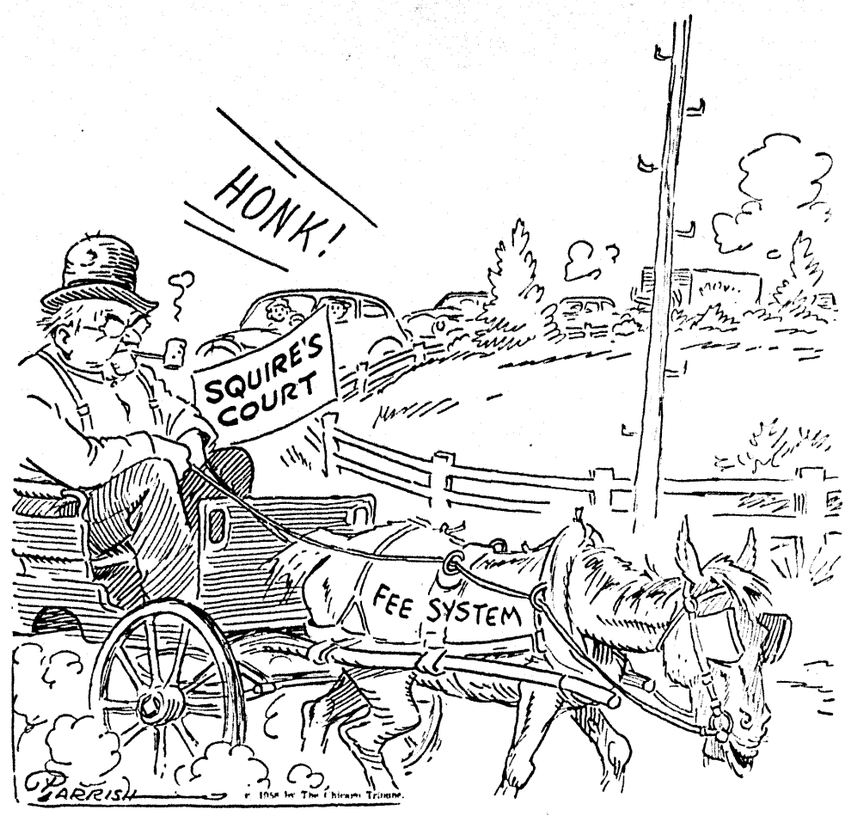
One safety engineer told Reilly he has seat belts in his own car but rarely uses them. "I suppose I'm like the majority of American car - owners who are willing to gamble that an accident never happens to them," he pointed out. "After all, comparing the total number of drivers in this country with the number of accidents, the odds actually are quite great against your being in an accident. And that seems to be the way most people figure."

"All we can do is tell people how good seat belts are," one executive said. "But neither we, the manufacturer, nor the legislators, I think, are prepared to tell people they must have them I don't believe this is something you can do by legislation."

Reilly said research is underway at all the companies to develop some sort of built - in restraining device which will function automatically when a car comes to a sudden halt. There is some difference of opinion on how best to approach this, but there is general agreement that something along this line will be developed that is both practical and effective.

The automobile industry feels it doesn't have to apologize to anybody for its efforts in increasing safety. Without being told to do so it has developed brakes that will lock the wheels of a car at 70 miles an hour, steering wheels that are practically fool-proof, sealed beam headlights, turn signals and numerous other safety features. At the same time the industry is sure that it will still be criticized as long as there are cars and people to drive them.

Horse-And-Buggy Days



GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Cry Of 'Mortal Danger' Is Dangerous In Itself

The principal achievement of propaganda, public relations and advertising is to make a person believe what somebody else wants him to believe. "Nine out of ten," shrieks a girl on television and you are therefore supposed to believe that nine out of ten doctors prescribe a certain drug for a headache. It is not true in the first place because the way the medical profession is organized, doctors specialize and therefore no such ratio has anything to do with headaches. Furthermore, my own doctor warned me that as a cardiac patient if I took this or a remedy of the same ingredient, it would do me damage. It might kill me.

It is the same in politics. In order to justify a budget and to continue high taxes, the government propagandists took advantage of the sputnik to scream that if we did not do something drastic, we would be licked, all our cities would be wiped out, and our population destroyed. Therefore the "educators" got into a tizzy by demanding more schools and colleges to turn out more engineers and scientists, even though by such acute specialization the engineers, scientists and all others would come out of colleges and universities ignorant, uneducated specialists, slide rule pushers who could not think for themselves. The principal task of all learning, after all, is to train the mind to think for itself.

Then the free lancers for magazines and newspapers began to sell articles on how we are going to surrender. Editors bought such articles in the hope that people like to read about the worst. Of these articles, the most unbelievable and therefore the one that attracted most attention was by Brigadier General Thomas R. Phillips, U.S. Army (retired), the dateline is Washington, August 5. Brigadier General Phillips has had an interesting administrative career in the Army, is the author or editor of a number of books and is the military analyst for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

This particular article has the following headlines and subheads, all bunched together in the Congressional Record in which I read it:

"Question of When United States Should Surrender in All-Out Nuclear Attack Studied for Pentagon—Scientists Are Proceeding on Assumption Russia Has Achieved, or Is Rapidly Gaining, Intercontinental Military Superiority With Missiles."

The article deals mainly with a book, "Strategic Surrender," by Paul Kecskemiti, published by the Stanford University Press for the Rand Corporation which is an Air Force Agency. Who Kecskemeti is, I cannot discover in usual works of reference. The brigadier gives no biographical sketch; neither does Senator Symington who calls attention to the article.

Senator Symington said that he called attention to the otherwise obscure article and book for the following reason:

"... the article has prompted considerable correspondence from disturbed constituents who asked whether the article has any basis of truth. They want to know whether it is a fact that the United States is in mortal danger, as General Gavin stated, according to an article which was published last week in Life magazine. They want to know whether General Phillips is correct when he says:

"'The United States will be in mortal danger until bombers, fast enough to limit the effectiveness of hostile air defenses, and thousands of intercontinental missiles are ready to respond to the opponent, who has trumped our ace by jumping over the phase of intercontinental warfare represented by long-range bombers as a means of delivery.'"

The phrase, "mortal danger," is a most serious one and cannot be used lightly. I have read General James M. Gavin's book, "War and Peace in the Space Age," and came away from it disturbed but without any feeling that we are in "mortal danger." In fact, my own reaction was that as long as General Gavin could write such a book for general circulation and state his criticisms in freedom, we are not in "mortal danger," Admiral Hyman Rickover does it better, I think: he criticizes but stays on the job as long as he will be permitted to stay on the job and do a man's work.

There is no use minimizing the peril of having such an enemy as Soviet Russia, but it is really dangerous to shriek, "mortal danger," to get a budget through Congress. There ought to be a more mature way of getting things done.

HAL BOYLE

Rock, Roll Seen As Savage Beat

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The fine-featured, elderly man drew back as if he had received a blow in the face.

"What do I think of rock 'n' roll?" he said. "Why, it's nothing but pure savagery—but the savages did it better. They used it to work themselves up to enjoy orgies or commit murders.

"Beethoven used themes as simple as rock 'n' roll themes, but he developed them. They grew. Rock 'n' roll has practically no melodic value. It is simply a monotonous, savage beat, repeated over and over."

And Dr. Sigmund Spaeth leaned back, slightly upset. He has been a top cheerleader for all kinds of music for 50 years. His 30 books range from "Great Symphonies" to "How to Play the Harmonica." But he draws the line at rock 'n' roll.

"There are limits to human tolerance," he observed.

At 73, Dr. Spaeth, who can play 10 instruments himself, is still one of America's most active drumbeaters for the appreciation of music. The noted "tune detective" delivers 50 lectures a year, travels 50,000 miles, edits "Music Journal," writes a weekly syndicated music column, serves as panelist on a radio show.

"There are more people playing some kind of musical instrument now than at any other time in our history," he said.

"We've got over the silly idea that if you want to play at all you have to play well. The old-fashioned teachers used to ruin music for many of their pupils by making it a form of drudgery. They treated every student as a potential concert performer.

"That was nonsense. We need dub musicians as well as pros. Only a few have the talent to become pros."

Throughout his long career Dr. Spaeth, who began playing the piano at 5, has preached the theory that music is fun.

"If it isn't fun," he demanded, "what else can it be? People should make music for their own satisfaction, and listen to it for their own satisfaction—not merely because someone informs them it is cultural.

"Parents often ask me when they should start their children listening to good music. I tell them, 'The day a child is born. You can't start much sooner.'"

Of the tens of thousands of musical compositions Dr. Spaeth has studied, what are his own favorites?

"It's a difficult question," he said. "But I suppose to me the greatest piece of music is Brahms' Third Symphony. I put him above Beethoven, Bach and Wagner.

"My favorite popular songs—I'll have to give three—are George Gershwin's 'The Man I Love,' Jerome Kern's 'All the Things You Are,' and Dick Rodgers' 'If I Loved You.'"

Daily Devotion

What shall a man give in exchange for his soul? — Matthew 16:26.

It is said that in the course of planning a rather shady deal one man remonstrated, "Do you take me for a traitor?" Replying the other man said, "I know what you are; we are now merely haggling over your lowest price!" It seems trite to enumerate the many things highly valued by we mortals — money, position, lands, pleasure authority and power — but it is nevertheless true that the love of these things can erode and eventually destroy the soul and our sense of both material and spiritual values. We should be alert to such danger.

Merciful God, look with compassion on our weaknesses and guide us by Thy Word and Holy Spirit into paths of service. In Christ's name we ask. Amen.

DR. T.R. VAN DELLEN

Less Food Gives Cooler Feeling

The body does not demand different foods or vitamins during hot weather. A balanced diet is best but most of us feel cooler by eating less. Food adds energy in much the same way as coal increases the temperature of the fire in the furnace.

The situation is different in regard to water and salt which are lost from the skin and lungs as part of the cooling process of the body. Heat stroke ensues if this mechanism is not functioning properly. Many adults sweat off 5 to 10 quarts of water on a torrid day.

There are no adverse effects until the water deficit amounts to 1 to 2 per cent of the body weight. This varies from 3 to 6 pounds in a 150 pound man. A greater loss affects the circulation of blood, which in turn upsets the efficiency of the cooling system. Several glasses of water or other liquid a day remedy the situation.

Exposure to warm weather for several days acclimates an individual to the heat so he is better able to tolerate the loss of water. When this occurs, beverages at mealtime furnish the needs.

These persons also lose less salt in their perspiration and do not require additional amounts. Salt used in preparing food and that from the shaker on the table will be adequate. Additional salt is needed, however, if they work hard and perspire profusely.

Vomiting, diarrhea, and fever deplete the body's salt and water supply. The same occurs to individuals suffering from diseases of the pancreas and adrenal glands. These are added burdens and explain why they are more serious in summer.

Babies tolerate heat well and have about the same amount of salt in their perspiration as adults acclimated to the heat. As a result, they do not need supplements of this mineral.

'Tag' Is Played By Doing Good

The Marine fliers named below illustrate the new kind of "Tag." It's really just a variety of the old childhood game. When you attend church, realize that your clergyman is trying to tag you, as he himself was once tagged by some saintly soul several years ago. Join the Compliment Club and "tag" 3 people every day

CASE Z - 312: Before our oldest son, George, crashed in his jet plane two years ago, he had seen many of his pals killed before his own eyes.

In fact, he had been asked to escort the body back to Ft. Wayne of Lieut. Robert Wolverton.

After the funeral, George decided he wanted to do something to help memorialize his flying pal.

So, since he was a tither, he informed his mother she should tithe money to the Wayne Street Church in Ft. Wayne, so it could be used for youth work, as a memorial to Lieut. Wolverton.

Within a couple of years, George himself had the tail of his jet plane clipped off by another plane in his group and thus crashed at Glenview Naval Air Station.

At George's funeral, Lieut. William A. Holton, Jr., of New Orleans, a lifelong pal of George, learned about George's memorial fund at Ft. Wayne.

So Lieut. Holton has been generously carrying on the tradition.

Recently I saw the "thank you" letter which Dr. Gerald H. Jones sent to Lieut. Holton. It began:

"Thank you for your very gracious check for $100 for the use of our church in its youth work in memory of George W. Crane IV and his friend Robert Wolverton."

GAME OF TAG

In our childhood, most of us played "tag". We touched another, who then became "it" and was required to tag a third, etc.

Well, morality is just a spiritual game of "tag" in which one generous soul tries to help make the world better by assisting somebody else.

And that other party should realize that morally he is "it", so he should then try to pass along a similar kindly boost to still a third person.

"We should plow back into life," states an old proverb, "More than we take from it."

In a somewhat similar vein, Abraham Lincoln hoped that he could "plant roses where thistles grew before."

So when you listen to your priest, rabbi or clergyman this week-end, just realize that such men are links in an age-old game of moral "tag".

In later years came Peter and Paul, Philip and John, St. Francis of Assisi, Loyola and John Wesley, Martin Luther and Roger Williams.

And not only are the clergymen trying to "tag" us with enough idealism and zest to continue this remarkable game, but we have also been tagged by devout mothers and fathers ahead of us, plus Sunday school teachers, Scout leaders, YMCA secretaries and others.

PASS IT ON

In the old-fashioned game, a tired or angry playmate might refuse to "pass it on" when he was tagged.

If a parent or teacher in this modern world likewise refuses to pass on the moral tagging which he obtained, then he has been derelict to the memory of saintly folks throughout ALL bygone ages.

For if everybody stopped this spiritual tag game, chaos and anarchy, paganism and crime would become rampant in a decade.

So resolve that you will be true to your sacrificial dead who have tagged you for a happier, more abundant life.

That involves the responsibility for your continuing the game! You can start the spiritual tag game right now by paying compliments to your companions.

Safety For Children

Numbers alone do not make up the horror and revulsion associated with traffic fatalities. Some types of accidents appear worse than others and arouse more feeling. One of the worst is the careless killing or maiming of a school child.

We may become accustomed to automobile accidents in which several persons are killed or to airplane accidents in which scores may lose their lives. In the first instance there may be joint responsibility and in the second such factors as weather conditions, mechanical difficulties and unavoidable human errors may be involved.

When a child is struck and killed or injured near a school or while he is waiting for a bus or leaving a bus or crossing a street it is difficult to find any way in which to relieve the driver of blame. Knowing that children must do all of these things to reach school and that they cannot be expected to act with the same care and discretion that an adult might exercise, the driver is charged with the full responsibility of seeing that no such accident occurs.

Generally good records have been established in Monroe, West Monroe and throughout northeast Louisiana in the matter of safety for school children. Despite this, some such accidents have occurred in the northeast Louisiana area in recent years. It is the duty of every driver to do his utmost to eliminate such accidents.

In the vicinities of schools the law provides for 15-miles-per-hour zones. This means the maximum speed at which a driver may travel during or near school hours. If it is necessary to travel at a slower rate to assure safety the law intends safety shall be preserved.

Some additional police officers have been provided to assist children in crossing the streets near the schools. This helps because the officers are able to halt traffic completely while the children make the crossings.

A careful and responsible driver will take the same precautions when an officer is not present and will give the children an opportunity to cross.

One thing that needs to be stressed in this connection is that children are to be found not only on the heavily traveled streets but on other streets as well. Accidents are sometimes more likely to occur on little-traveled streets because the drivers are less careful and because the children do not expect speeding on these streets.

We should strive for a perfect record this school term in protecting the lives of children.

'Don'ts' Won't Pay Off

Any idea that atomic development will cease simply because nuclear energy can be used as a devasting method of war or because of worldwide bans is not only futile but ridiculous. Atomic development, in one form or another, will continue and it remains to be seen whether international agreements will have any effect on the use of such energy for war.

This theory was aptly expressed by Dr. Edward Teller, known as the father of the H-bomb, who encountered some hostility when he urged peaceful use of nuclear explosives at the second International Atoms for Peace Conference in Geneva. Dr. Teller indicated he did not favor a test ban for peaceful purposes. He said:

"I do not believe agreements not to do something will last, even if they are made. I believe the future of the world lies in agreements that begin with 'do.' I doubt if the future of the world lies with agreements that begin with 'don't.'

Additional evidence that the United States does not favor abandonment of the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes was given by Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby, who described a large number of peacetime uses for nuclear blasts. He told the 5,000 delegates to the 69-nation conference. "We must forever grasp the helping hand the atom extends us." Mr. Libby said his statement represented U. S. government policy.

About the best that can be said for the present conferences proposing to ban the use of atomic weapons in war is that they show a desire on the part of the participating nations for peace. It is doubtful if anyone really thinks a ban on the use of nuclear weapons would be observed by all nations if the world should become embroiled in another all-out war.

When American and Russian forces were closing in on a desperate Adolf Hitler near the end of World War II the German dictator had been hoping desperately for development of the atomic bomb in time to avert defeat. His desperation finally became so great that he reportedly committed suicide. Can anyone doubt that under those circumstances, when his whole ambition was to conquer the world, that he would have broken any agreement that might have existed on the use of weapons.

Agreement on a ban on the use of atomic tests for war purposes may serve some useful purpose by encouraging a more general ban on weapons and on war itself. By a system of inspections, the manufacturer of atomic weapons could be limited and possibly eliminated for the time being.

Any assumption by the United States that Russia won't use atomic weapons if it decides to make war on us would be suicidal.

Meantime, great increases in population and advances along many lines make it imperative that all sources of energy and power be developed to their fullest so that the people on the earth can be sustained. We cannot agree not to make progress.

VERNON LOUVIERE

Horsepower Race Blamed In Rising Toll Of Death

Congress is willing to investigate almost anything but there seems to be little likelihood it will go through with a threat to call Detroit on the carpet for engaging in a horsepower race.

There have been statements from time to time by individual Congressmen that the automobile industry should be summoned to Washington to explain why auto makers are trying to outdo one another in boosting horsepower with each new model that rolls off the assembly line.

This horsepower race, the lawmakers have insisted, contributed directly to the rising toll of death and destruction on the nation's highways. Detroit, on the other hand, has consistently maintained that the driver — and not pepped-up automobiles — is to blame in practically every accident.

More often than not the industry has placed itself in the position of defending itself against such charges rather than take a different and certainly more positive approach of telling the American public what it has done to bring about greater safety on the highway.

The magazine "Highway Highlights," published by the National Highway Users Conference, makes this point in discussing how the industry is spending tremendous sums of money on research to turn out cars that are as safe as humanly possible. Richard Reilly, editor of the magazine toured Detroit's vast automotive empire recently, talked with numerous safety engineers, and came out with some observations that bear noting.

In interviewing automotive officials, Reilly said, he found they generally agreed that the industry has not done enough in publicizing its own achievements in producing safer vehicles. One explained, "We do a wonderful job talking about the styling of our cars, but when it comes to our safety accomplishments, we've sure kept our light under a bushel."

Last spring a special committee of the Governors' Conference went to Detroit to see for itself what action — if any — the industry was taking to make automobiles safer. This committee had questioned why seat belts and other safety apparatus were not standard equipment on all car models. And they wanted to know what was behind the horsepower race.

After watching demonstrations for three days, demonstrations in which automobiles were put through every safety test imaginable, the governors admitted they were astounded. Said one of the state leaders, "I tell you I've never been so impressed." And another commented, "We've been surprised to find out just how much is being done. We think the industry is doing a fine job of saving lives."

One thing the governors did learn, according to Reilly, is that horsepower and excessive speed are not necessarily related. A 90-horsepower automobile can be driven almost as fast as a 250-horsepower machine. Safety engineers told Reilly that high horsepower actually should be regarded as a safety feature. In a tight squeeze when one car is trying to pass another rapid acceleration can spell the difference between passing safely and colliding with an oncoming vehicle.

When it comes to installing safety features such as seat belts on automobiles the car manufacturer compares himself with a doctor: you can tell a person what's good for him but you can't force him to follow your advice. One auto maker installed safety belts as standard equipment in all his cars a few years back but the buyers simply weren't interested. Some buyers even asked that the belts be removed and dealers were forced to complain to the manufacturer to stop installing the belts.

One safety engineer told Reilly he has seat belts in his own car but rarely uses them. "I suppose I'm like the majority of American car - owners who are willing to gamble that an accident never happens to them," he pointed out. "After all, comparing the total number of drivers in this country with the number of accidents, the odds actually are quite great against your being in an accident. And that seems to be the way most people figure."

"All we can do is tell people how good seat belts are," one executive said. "But neither we, the manufacturer, nor the legislators, I think, are prepared to tell people they must have them I don't believe this is something you can do by legislation."

Reilly said research is underway at all the companies to develop some sort of built - in restraining device which will function automatically when a car comes to a sudden halt. There is some difference of opinion on how best to approach this, but there is general agreement that something along this line will be developed that is both practical and effective.

The automobile industry feels it doesn't have to apologize to anybody for its efforts in increasing safety. Without being told to do so it has developed brakes that will lock the wheels of a car at 70 miles an hour, steering wheels that are practically fool-proof, sealed beam headlights, turn signals and numerous other safety features. At the same time the industry is sure that it will still be criticized as long as there are cars and people to drive them.

Horse-And-Buggy Days

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Cry Of 'Mortal Danger' Is Dangerous In Itself

The principal achievement of propaganda, public relations and advertising is to make a person believe what somebody else wants him to believe. "Nine out of ten," shrieks a girl on television and you are therefore supposed to believe that nine out of ten doctors prescribe a certain drug for a headache. It is not true in the first place because the way the medical profession is organized, doctors specialize and therefore no such ratio has anything to do with headaches. Furthermore, my own doctor warned me that as a cardiac patient if I took this or a remedy of the same ingredient, it would do me damage. It might kill me.

It is the same in politics. In order to justify a budget and to continue high taxes, the government propagandists took advantage of the sputnik to scream that if we did not do something drastic, we would be licked, all our cities would be wiped out, and our population destroyed. Therefore the "educators" got into a tizzy by demanding more schools and colleges to turn out more engineers and scientists, even though by such acute specialization the engineers, scientists and all others would come out of colleges and universities ignorant, uneducated specialists, slide rule pushers who could not think for themselves. The principal task of all learning, after all, is to train the mind to think for itself.

Then the free lancers for magazines and newspapers began to sell articles on how we are going to surrender. Editors bought such articles in the hope that people like to read about the worst. Of these articles, the most unbelievable and therefore the one that attracted most attention was by Brigadier General Thomas R. Phillips, U.S. Army (retired), the dateline is Washington, August 5. Brigadier General Phillips has had an interesting administrative career in the Army, is the author or editor of a number of books and is the military analyst for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

This particular article has the following headlines and subheads, all bunched together in the Congressional Record in which I read it:

"Question of When United States Should Surrender in All-Out Nuclear Attack Studied for Pentagon—Scientists Are Proceeding on Assumption Russia Has Achieved, or Is Rapidly Gaining, Intercontinental Military Superiority With Missiles."

The article deals mainly with a book, "Strategic Surrender," by Paul Kecskemiti, published by the Stanford University Press for the Rand Corporation which is an Air Force Agency. Who Kecskemeti is, I cannot discover in usual works of reference. The brigadier gives no biographical sketch; neither does Senator Symington who calls attention to the article.

Senator Symington said that he called attention to the otherwise obscure article and book for the following reason:

"... the article has prompted considerable correspondence from disturbed constituents who asked whether the article has any basis of truth. They want to know whether it is a fact that the United States is in mortal danger, as General Gavin stated, according to an article which was published last week in Life magazine. They want to know whether General Phillips is correct when he says:

" 'The United States will be in mortal danger until bombers, fast enough to limit the effectiveness of hostile air defenses, and thousands of intercontinental missiles are ready to respond to the opponent, who has trumped our ace by jumping over the phase of intercontinental warfare represented by long-range bombers as a means of delivery.' "

The phrase, "mortal danger," is a most serious one and cannot be used lightly. I have read General James M. Gavin's book, "War and Peace in the Space Age," and came away from it disturbed but without any feeling that we are in "mortal danger." In fact, my own reaction was that as long as General Gavin could write such a book for general circulation and state his criticisms in freedom, we are not in "mortal danger."

Admiral Hyman Rickover does it better, I think: he criticizes but stays on the job as long as he will be permitted to stay on the job and do a man's work.

There is no use minimizing the peril of having such an enemy as Soviet Russia, but it is really dangerous to shriek, "mortal danger," to get a budget through Congress. There ought to be a more mature way of getting things done.

HAL BOYLE

Rock, Roll Seen As Savage Beat

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The fine-featured, elderly man drew back as if he had received a blow in the face.

"What do I think of rock 'n' roll?" he said. "Why, it's nothing but pure savagery—but the savages did it better. They used it to work themselves up to enjoy orgies or commit murders.

"Beethoven used themes as simple as rock 'n' roll themes, but he developed them. They grew. Rock 'n' roll has practically no melodic value. It is simply a monotonous, savage beat, repeated over and over."

And Dr. Sigmund Spaeth leaned back, slightly upset. He has been a top cheerleader for all kinds of music for 50 years. His 30 books range from "Great Symphonies" to "How to Play the Harmonica." But he draws the line at rock 'n' roll.

"There are limits to human tolerance," he observed.

At 73, Dr. Spaeth, who can play 10 instruments himself, is still one of America's most active drum-beaters for the appreciation of music. The noted "tune detective" delivers 50 lectures a year, travels 50,000 miles, edits "Music Journal," writes a weekly syndicated music column, serves as panelist on a radio show.

"There are more people playing some kind of musical instrument now than at any other time in our history," he said.

"We've got over the silly idea that if you want to play at all you have to play well. The old-fashioned teachers used to ruin music for many of their pupils by making it a form of drudgery. They treated every student as a potential concert performer.

"That was nonsense. We need dub musicians as well as pros. Only a few have the talent to become pros."

Throughout his long career Dr. Spaeth, who began playing the piano at 5, has preached the theory that music is fun.

"If it isn't fun," he demanded, "what else can it be? People should make music for their own satisfaction, and listen to it for their own satisfaction—not merely because someone informs them it is cultural.

"Parents often ask me when they should start their children listening to good music. I tell them, 'The day a child is born. You can't start much sooner.' "

Of the tens of thousands of musical compositions Dr. Spaeth has studied, what are his own favorites?

"It's a difficult question," he said. "But I suppose to me the greatest piece of music is Brahms' Third Symphony. I put him above Beethoven, Bach and Wagner.

"My favorite popular songs—I'll have to give three—are George Gershwin's 'The Man I Love,' Jerome Kern's 'All the Things You Are,' and Dick Rodgers' 'If I Loved You.' "

Daily Devotion

What shall a man give in exchange for his soul? — Matthew 16:26.

It is said that in the course of planning a rather shady deal one man remonstrated, "Do you take me for a traitor?" Replying the other man said, "I know what you are; we are now merely haggling over your lowest price!" It seems trite to enumerate the many things highly valued by we mortals — money, position, lands, pleasure authority and power — but it is nevertheless true that the love of these things can erode and eventually destroy the soul and our sense of both material and spiritual values. We should be alert to such danger.

Merciful God, look with compassion on our weaknesses and guide us by Thy Word and Holy Spirit into paths of service. In Christ's name we ask. Amen.

DR. T.R. VAN DELLEN

Less Food Gives Cooler Feeling

The body does not demand different foods or vitamins during hot weather. A balanced diet is best but most of us feel cooler by eating less. Food adds energy in much the same way as coal increases the temperature of the fire in the furnace.

The situation is different in regard to water and salt which are lost from the skin and lungs as part of the cooling process of the body. Heat stroke ensues if this mechanism is not functioning properly. Many adults sweat off 5 to 10 quarts of water on a torrid day.

There are no adverse effects until the water deficit amounts to 1 to 2 per cent of the body weight. This varies from 3 to 6 pounds in a 150 pound man. A greater loss affects the circulation of blood, which in turn upsets the efficiency of the cooling system. Several glasses of water or other liquid a day remedy the situation.

Exposure to warm weather for several days acclimates an individual to the heat so he is better able to tolerate the loss of water. When this occurs, beverages at mealtime furnish the needs.

These persons also lose less salt in their perspiration and do not require additional amounts. Salt used in preparing food and that from the shaker on the table will be adequate. Additional salt is needed, however, if they work hard and perspire profusely.

Vomiting, diarrhea, and fever deplete the body's salt and water supply. The same occurs to individuals suffering from diseases of the pancreas and adrenal glands. These are added burdens and explain why they are more serious in summer.

Babies tolerate heat well and have about the same amount of salt in their perspiration as adults acclimated to the heat. As a result, they do not need supplements of this mineral.

FIGHTS SLEEP

Mrs. A. G. writes: Many nights, when I realize I'm falling asleep, I suddenly become wide awake and no matter how I try to relax I can't doze off for hours. I have no worries, fears, or pains and cannot understand why I cannot fall asleep. Any help will be appreciated.

REPLY

Insomnia comes in many packages and I would suggest that you send a stamped, self - addressed envelop for our leaflet on this problem.

THE REJECTED

M. J. R. writes: Is there any help for children who were rejected by their mother and who have carried the resentment thru the years?

REPLY

Yes, varying from the common sense advice of the family physician to extensive psychiatric care. The majority of persons with this problem improve when they understand the cause of their emotional difficulty.

Big Red Guns Hit Quemoys After Planes

(4 days of artillery barrages had killed or wounded about 800 Nationalist soldiers in the Quemoy military garrison of "over 100,000" men.

He said he did not know whether the United States would help save the Quemoys from total isolation by blockade.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Friday warned the Red Chinese that President Eisenhower would not hesitate to defend the offshore islands if an attack endangered Formosa.

The Soviet Union promptly warned Friday the entire Communist block, including Russia would go to the aid of Communist China with "all possible means at its disposal" if war developed in the Far East. UPI correspondent Henry Shapiro, in a dispatch that cleared from Moscow, said diplomats analyzing Soviet press editorials had concluded that war against Communist China would be considered war against Russia.

BEGINS URGENT TALKS

He added that the press comment bore the unmistakable imprint of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's views.

Nationalist Chinese Foreign Minister Huang Shao - ku, commenting on the Dulles statement, said America had "demonstrated its readiness to deal with any further Chinese Communist adventure by timely and effective counterblows should they choose to ignore this new warning."

Vice Adm. Wallace V. Beakley, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, arrived unannounced in Taipei on Friday and began urgent talks with top American and Nationalist military leaders.

Nationalist intelligence sources reported, meanwhile, that Communist military commanders in Fukien Province opened strategy meetings two days ago similar to the two-day session held just prior to Aug. 23, when the Reds opened their intensive artiliery bombardment. They said the meeting might mean the Fukien army has received new orders.

Peace Treaty Group Posed For Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany Friday proposed the formation of a Big Four commission to draft a World War II peace treaty for Germany.

The Western Big Three and the Bonn republic have no diplomatic relations with East Germany and have ignored its international communications.

The West holds a German peace treaty must be tied in with an agreement for German reunification through free elections. The Soviet Union has rejected this.

POLICE BLOTTER

FACES CHARGES

Monroe police yesterday arrested a Nacogdoches, Texas man and charged him with disturbing the peace and committing simple battery.

Curly Vines, 49, was arrested in the 100 block of Sixth St. and a $127.50 bond was set in his case.

ARRESTED

Dan Jackson, 30, 3912 Pippin St. was arrested at home yesterday and charged with reckless driving and no valid driver's license.

Jackson was in jail awaiting a hearing in city court.

Mrs. Hester Hall Dies; Mother Of Monroe Resident

Mrs. Hester Hall, 90, mother of C. A. Hall, Monroe funeral home operator died yesterday at her home in Heavener, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Hall was a pioneer of Heavener, having come there as an infant by wagon from Georgia. She was a charter member of the First Baptist Church there.

Services will be held Sunday afternoon from the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Gaston officiating. Interment will be in the Old Heavener Cemetery.

Survivors other than the son, include five daughters, Mrs. Harry Bordwell of Ft. Worth, Tex., Mrs. John Hutchinson of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. W. E. Coppedge of Kansas City, Mo., Miss Vera Hall of Heavener and Mrs. Walter Russell of Detroit, Mich.; a brother, Bob Singleterry of Wister, Okla.; six grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren and a host of nieces and nephews.

School Materials Not Curtailed By Funds Reduction

Both Monroe school systems have reported possible shortages of funds to provide instructional materials for the present school year. The funds cover such essential materials as pencils, paper, ink, chalk, library additions and other supplies.

The 1958 legislature reduced the allotment of state funds which provide for the materials, but neither the Monroe system nor the parish system has felt the pinch as yet, it was reported.

Enough money is on hand to enable the systems to temporarily continue to provide the materials as in the past, spokesmen said. Van Odom, superintendent of city schools, said he should have enough to "just about get through the year."

Superintendent of parish schools W. W. Ward pointed out that he had the regular amount of funds, but rising prices will eventually curtail purchases.

Optimist Clubs Hold Convention In Monroe Today

An Optimist Club convention will be held here today and Sunday and clubs from Shreveport, Alexandria and Bastrop will attend, it was announced yesterday.

Clubs of Zone C in the 34th district of the organization will register today from 2-6 p.m. at Hotel Frances, spokesmen said. For members a fish and chicken fry and a boating party on the Ouachita River will be held at 7 tonight.

From 9 to 12 Sunday morning there will be a business session, closing with a luncheon meeting with Optimist District Governor Phill Reemes featured as speaker.

Cancer Drive Exceeds 1958 Quota For La.

The 1958 crusade of the American Cancer Society in Louisiana has exceeded its quota of $300,000.

State Chairman Fred Huenefeld Jr. of Monroe said last night that contributions total $339,753.34, the largest amount ever raised for cancer control in this state.

"The people of Louisiana have, in greater measure than ever before, recognized the need and have made their greatest response in the battle to control cancer," Huenefeld said.

31TH YEAR

He added that this is the 13th consecutive year that Louisiana has reached or passed its quota. "Louisiana has the distinction of being one of nine states that has always made its goal," Huenefeld pointed out.

Of the total, about $204,000 will remain in the state for education programs and research.

Approximately $95,000 will go to the national cancer research program. Huenefeld noted that actually Louisiana scientists receive more national funds than the state contributes for their support.

Remaining funds will be used to support the service facets of the society, the chairman added.

Big Red Guns Hit Quemoys After Planes

(4 days of artillery barrages had killed or wounded about 800 Nationalist soldiers in the Quemoy military garrison of "over 100,000" men.

He said he did not know whether the United States would help save the Quemoys from total isolation by blockade.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Friday warned the Red Chinese that President Eisenhower would not hesitate to defend the offshore islands if an attack endangered Formosa.

The Soviet Union promptly warned Friday the entire Communist block, including Russia would go to the aid of Communist China with "all possible means at its disposal" if war developed in the Far East. UPI correspondent Henry Shapiro, in a dispatch that cleared from Moscow, said diplomats analyzing Soviet press editorials had concluded that war against Communist China would be considered war against Russia.

BEGINS URGENT TALKS

He added that the press comment bore the unmistakable imprint of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's views.

Nationalist Chinese Foreign Minister Huang Shao - ku, commenting on the Dulles statement, said America had "demonstrated its readiness to deal with any further Chinese Communist adventure by timely and effective counterblows should they choose to ignore this new warning."

Vice Adm. Wallace V. Beakley, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, arrived unannounced in Taipei on Friday and began urgent talks with top American and Nationalist military leaders.

Nationalist intelligence sources reported, meanwhile, that Communist military commanders in Fukien Province opened strategy meetings two days ago similar to the two-day session held just prior to Aug. 23, when the Reds opened their intensive artiliery bombardment. They said the meeting might mean the Fukien army has received new orders.

Peace Treaty Group Posed For Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany Friday proposed the formation of a Big Four commission to draft a World War II peace treaty for Germany.

The Western Big Three and the Bonn republic have no diplomatic relations with East Germany and have ignored its international communications.

The West holds a German peace treaty must be tied in with an agreement for German reunification through free elections. The Soviet Union has rejected this.

SCORE IN FIRST PERIOD

Rebels Capture Grueling 7-0 Decision Over Neville

West Monroe went 63 yards for a touchdown the first time they had the ball and battled off four Neville threats to win, 7-0, in a grueling traditional tussle at West Monroe last night.

Jerry Stovall, an offensive and defensive star all night, went three yards to cap the Rebel drive in the first quarter for a touchdown and then booted the PAT for the seven points that stood up the rest of the way. Inexperienced Neville, expected to be in for a lean year after several fat ones, battled back gamely, grinding to the four in the second quarter, to the 26 in the 3rd, to the 13 in the fourth, and moving again on the 29 when time ran out.

After a beautifully played first half, the second was marred by penalties and fumbles but highlighted by great defensive play. Tackles were the defensive stars, Jimmy Bell for West Monroe and Ross Noland and Mickey Cox for Bill Ruple's Tigers. Stovall also turned in a tremendous defensive game for the Rebels, Guard James Hunt also starred for Neville.

Halfback John Moses, who shared the heavy running with Stovall for West Monroe, ended the second Neville threat with the only interception of the night, batting down a Joe Turner pass and pulling it in to half the drive at the 13. Cox had set up the Tiger threat with a fumble recovery on the 38.

Joe Cage, Gene Howard and Joe Turner powered the Neville drives with Cage and Turner alternating at quarterback and right half. Both passed often, several times to each other. Neville went to the 4 in the second quarter before the Reb defense, led by Stovall and Bell, stiffened and threw them back to the 9. Neville went to the 26 in the third but three incomplete passes and a Cage lost of 14 yards ended the threat.

After Cox's recovery of a fumble in the fourth, Cage threw to Dooley Haddad for 25 yards with the halfback almost going all the way. He was downed on the 13 and Moses came up with his interception to end it.

With slightly over a minute left in the game, Neville took over on the Rebel 47 and Cage clicked with a pass to Wayne Bassett for 12 and Howard moved to the 29 before time ran out.

West Monroe, also fielding an inexperienced club after a fine season last year, deserved to win. They moved well in their scoring drive but sputtered the rest of the time. Their defense was tough when it had to be which was often.

Viewed by a standing room crowd of approximately 4,500, the game was forgotten for a moment in the last half when a fight at the south end sent the crowd surging that way. Inter-school raids preceded the game and a big "N" was burned in the middle of the field. It was the nearest thing to a touchdown Neville scored.

White Sox Rally To Whip Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Chicago White Sox came from behind with a three-run rally in the seventh inning Friday night, defeating the Cleveland Indians 4-3. A game-winning single by Jim Landis scored Sherm Lollar, who had tied the score with a two-run double.

Larry Doby drove in all three Cleveland runs with a home run and a single. Al Smith homered for Chicago.

Herb Score, who relieved starter Don Mossi, was charged with the loss. Coming in with the Indians leading 3-1 and two men on base, Score gave up Lollar's double and the game-winning single by Landis.

Early Wynn picked up his 13th victory to go with the same amount of losses. It was his fourth win over the Tribe, who have been unable to beat the big right-hander since they traded him to Chicago.

GORY MESS

Basilio Knocks Out Aragon In 8

By JACK CUDDY

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Carmen Basilio, former welterweight and middleweight champion, launched an impressive comeback Friday night by battering Art (Golden Boy) Aragon to body and head until his face was a gory mask and scored a knockout in the eighth round at Wrigly Field.

Referee Tommy Hart stopped the fight at 1:27 of the eighth round to save Aragon, of Los Angeles, from further punishment, a conclusion that is a full-fledged knockout in the state of California.

Basilio, making his first start since he lost the middleweight title to Sugar Ray Robinson on March 25, gave Aragon a terrific beating in their fight, which had many blistering exchanges that evoked roars of applause from the estimated 22,000 fans.

Basilio, weighing 155½ pounds to Aragon's 152, was staggered himself three times in the fifth round and was well-shaken up by left hooks and sneaker rights in the third and fourth sessions.

However, rugged Carmen, who never has been stopped in his career of 72 fights, came blazing back every time and continued to beat Aragon on the body and head.

His impressive victory is expected to clinch another shot at the middleweight crown. Champion Robinson promised to meet Friday's winner early next year unless Sugar Ray decides to retire meanwhile.

Referee Hart explained as he came down the ring steps, "I stopped the fight to save him for further punishment. It's a knockout."

Swarthy, dark - haired Aragon, slightly taller than Carmen, put up a game fight and tried to knock out the ex-champ until his legs were gone and he was taking punch after punch without return in the eighth round.

A right to the chin staggered Art, the 5-1 underdog, and then a left hook to the same target sent him staggering backwards in the eighth round with blood pouring from five cuts on his face. It was then that the referee stepped in.

Aragon still has the distinction of never having taken the count in his 101 bouts, but this was the second time one of his fights has been stopped.

On May 11, 1948, Clyde Cohis was given a technical knockout over Art because of cuts.

On a 10-point must basis, the three ring officials had Basilio well ahead at the end of the seventh round.

Their cards read as follows: refree Hart, 70-57; Judge Jimmy Wilson, 69-60, and Judge George Latka, 70-62.

The United Press International agreed, 68-61.

Dodgers Master Cardinals, 2 To 1

ST. Louis (AP) — Held to three hits, all in one inning, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Friday night.

All the scoring in the game came in the second inning.

Steve Bilko's single and Don Zimmer's pop fly double put runners in scoring position off Cardinal starter Vinegar Bend Mizell. Charlie Neal's single to left—the last hit the Dodgers were to get in the ballgame—provided the victory margin.

In the Card's half they managed to load the bases with none out against starter Fred Kipp. Kipp managed to get out of the inning with but one tolly against him. Ken Boyer, Del Ennis and Gene Green all hit scratch singles and Boyer scored on Wally Moon's infield out.

Kipp left the game in the seventh in favor of Clem Labine. Kipp, having walked Wally Moon and giving up a single to Eddie Kasko, seemed to be tiring although he had struck out Gene Green. Labine retired pinch hitter Stan Musial on a pop fly and made Irv Noren hit an infield out.

Mizell left in the seventh for a pinch batter. He was replaced by Bill Wight who lasted less than an inning. After Junior Gilliam walked and Gino Cimoli sacrificed, Phil Paine came to the mound. He inherited a 2-2 count on Carl Furillo and made him pop to Cunningham.

The win gave Kipp a 6-4 record. Mizell is 9-11.

U.S. Leading In America's Cup Matches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor crushed the amateur champs of Canada and Mexico Friday and led the U. S. forces into huge lead in the fourth Americas Cup match.

Given the No. 1 role in singles, the 41-year-old dentist from Pomona, Calif., helped collect four points for the U. S. team in the first half of the two-day, three-way international match.

Dr. Taylor, runnerup in last year's National Amateur Golf Championship, first teamed with Bill Hyndman III, a lanky Philadelphian, to pick up two points in the morning alternate stroke sixsomes. Then he went out alone and trounced Bruce Castator of Toronto, the 1958 Canadian champion, 6 and 5, and Juan Antonio Estrada, Mexico's amateur titlist, 6 and 4.

It was the most impressive performance of a day which saw the cup defenders rally from a shaky start and pile up a huge lead. At the end of the first day, the scores stood United States 15, Canada 8 and Mexico 4.

Teamed with defending amateur champion Hillman Robbins in the morning, Ward won one point and lost one in the sixsomes. They needed 80 strokes to get around. It was the same in the afternoon. Ward went out in 40, took a 3 and 2 licking from Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ontario, but won easily 4 and 3 from Mexico's Rafael Quiroz.

Charlie Coe, Okalhoma City, and Rex Baxter Jr., of Amarillo Tex., also were two-point winners in the singles after they teamed in the morning to earn 1½ points.

No Yankees Left To Play Semi-Finals

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Queenslander Mal Anderson cut big Dick Savitt's resistance in one marathon set Friday and scored an 18-16, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3 victory which produced the first all-foreign men's semifinals in 77 years of the U.S. National Tennis Championships.

Flam, only U.S. semifinalist a year ago, went down 7-5, 8-6, 8-6.

So three Australians and a Scandinavian are left to battle for the championship won a year ago by Anderson.

It was the darkest day ever in American tennis. Oldsters had to go back to 1926 to recall a similarly disheartening turn of events. That year Big Bill Tilden and Little Bill Johnston fell in the quarter-finals leaving three Frenchmen—Rene Lacoste, Jean Borotra and Henri Cochet—and America's Vinnie Richards. Lacoste won it.

Boston Raps Orioles, 10-2, With 14 Hits

BALTIMORE (AP) — Boston's heavy artillery belted Baltimore pitching for 14 hits and a 10-2 victory Friday night.

Runnels, who had doubled home a run in the seventh, knocked in a pair in the eighth with a single to wind up Boston's scoring.

High School Football Games

FERRIDAY 18, BLOCK 0

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — The Ferriday High School Bulldogs, avenging their loss to Block that ended a long unbeaten string of four years last September, toppled the Block High Bears of Jonesville, 18-0, here last night.

James Poole, a 215-pound fullback, powered the Ferriday machine to its first two touchdowns, going for the opening dash for the next in the second quarter.

PINEVILLE 27, WINNFIELD 0

In the first quarter, Tom Orr, quarterback, passed to right halfback Henry Vicnair for 27 yards and the first score. Fullback John Harris plunged over for the PAT.

Harris dashed 16 yards in the second quarter and ran for the extra point, giving Pineville a 14-0 lead at the end of the half.

Orr on a 10-yard sprint in the third accounted for the third TD, and Harris scored on a 10-yard run in the final quarter. He also ran for the extra point.

CROWVILLE 26, ST. JOE 6

CROWVILLE, La. (Special) — The Crowville Bulldogs, spurred on by Raymond Williams, romped to a 26-6 win over the St. Joseph Warriors here last night.

Williams ran for two touchdowns on sprints of 40 and 50 yards. A 20-yard pass from James Arnold to John Brown accounted for another Bulldog TD, while Truman Johnson ran 45 yards for the fourth marker.

Pete Halley kicked the two extra points.

WINNSBORO VICTOR

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — The Winnsboro Wildcats stormed the defenses of the Newellton Bears for a 38-7 victory here last night with Frank Peoples leading the way with three touchdowns.

After Bennie Wiggins skirted left end from the 15 for the first touchdown, Peoples came through to score on a 40-yard dash. Peoples followed with a 59-yard TD run in the second period, and capped his night's work with a 65-yard run in the third quarter.

Quarterback Joe Henry bucked the line from the three for a third quarter TD, and J. D. Busby, fullback, scooped a Newellton fumble out of the air and went 40 yards for the last Wildcat touchdown. Pete Moore added extra points behind Peoples' second TD and the Busby tally.

Milford McVey broke Winnsboro's bid for a shutout when he took a pitchout on a six-yard end run to paydirt for the Bears in the last quarter.

Score by quarters:

Newellton	0	0	0	7	- 7
Winnsboro	12	7	19	0	- 38

HORNETS DROP EAGLES

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) —The Rayville High Hornets walked over the Holly Ridge Eagles, 18-0, in their season-opening football game here last night to avenge their 1957 loss to the invaders.

In the second quarter Stuart Dyer fired a pass to Ller Ellis from 20 yards out to account for the second TD, and James Mayo slashed off tackle from the four for the final touchdown.

BERNICE WHIPS ARCADIA

BERNICE, La. (Special) — A scoreless first half turned into a 13-0 victory for the Bernice Bears last night as they opened up after halftime to trounce the Arcadia Hornets.

The district 1-B match saw Fullback Bo Smith snatch a handoff early in the third quarter to score the first TD.

A 50-yard pass from Buzzy Green to Smith in the final stanza gave the Bears their second and final TD. Green made the PAT on a quarterback sneak.

Arcadia drove to the Bears 20-yard line in the second quarter but failed to score. Observers said the Bears' backfield put on a good running game and that the team showed up better than in the West Monroe Jamboree.

The bears will play the Homer B-team Thursday.

PANTHERS TRIP TIGERS

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) —The Lake Providence Panthers, considered a darkhorse candidate in the district two Class B race this year, opened the season with a 14-7 victory over the Sicily Island Tigers, for several years a power in district 3-B.

But Sicily Island came charging back to drive to the Lake Providence two from where fullback Johnny Weston rammed over center for the Island TD. A pass from Charles Miller to Weston was good for the tying point.

Then on the kickoff to Lake Providence, Walter Parker carried 23 yards for a filrst Jown, Purvis Thomas and Bill Richardson, in two tries, put the ball on the Sicily Island 27. Then Burton scampered around right end for the final TD. Burton also ran for the point.

Most of the game's action was packed into the first quarter. In the third period Lake Providence covered 60 yards to paydirt, but had the TD erased by a penalty. Then in the last period Purvis went all the way again, only to have another penalty cut out the play.

Sicily Island led in first downs, 10 to 6.

DELHI 57, START 0

DELHI, La. (Special) Delhi went on a scoring binge last night and bowled over Start with a spectacular 57 to 0.

Ken Newton started the march of victory in the first quarter with two touchdowns. Timmy Hutchinson kicked both extra points.

Entering the second quarter, Delhi really began to roll with four touchdowns by Nickie Smith, Leo Coleman, Billy Martin and Thomas Hosea.

Half-time score was 38 to 0.

Johnny Hopper and Timmy Hutchinson did the honors in the third quarter with a touchdown each to their credit. No extra points were made.

Delhi slowed down in the fourth quarter and made one touchdown with Kent Fuller bursting into the end zone. Hutchinson booted the extra point, making the score 57 to 0.

Receiving only one kickoff in the first of the second half, Delhi ran up their high score by intercepting passes and recovering fumbles and punts.

TALLULAH BOWS

VICKSBURG, Miss. (Special)—The Tallulah High Trojans, defending Class A football champions of Louisiana, fell before Vicksburg's Big Eight contenders, the Carr Central Greenies, 19 to 6, here last night.

Danny Neumann, Tallulah's all-state back, rammed one yard over tackle after a 41-yard march in the first quarter for the lone Tallulah touchdown.

Vicksburg's Jim McBride capped a 65-yard march with a touchdown plunge from the one after a 39-yard pass for McBride to Landy Teller had set up the play.

Next, Larry Ludkie sprinted 40 yards off tackle, and David Smith went six yards off tackle for the final TD after recovering a Tallulah fumble at the Trojan six. G. N. Robinson kicked the lone Carr PAT.

ISTROUMA WINS

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Playing without the services of star quarterback Lynn Amedee, Istrouma was directed to a 14-0 victory over Lake Charles by his understudy, Jack Webb, Friday night.

Amedee will be sidelined for at least one more game with a leg injury received in a pre-season scrimmage.

Webb scored one of his team's two touchdowns midway the fourth quarter on a six-yard rollout play run to climax a 61-yard drive, Istrouma's only sustained march of the game.

Istrouma's other touchdown came late in the first period after a 64-yard return of a pass interception by halfback Steve Ward. Ward, finally downed on the Lake Charles seven, scored three plays later from the one.

J-H WINS, 28-0

JONESBORO, La (Special) — Jonesboro - Hodge struck for three first half touchdowns, two on long runs, and cruised to a 28-0 victory over Jena here last night in a battle of class AA rivals.

Johnny Garrett threw seven yards to Dennis Mann for the first touchdown in the first quarter and Ronnie Carson ran over the PAT. Fullback Carson scored the second TD on a sparkling 79-yard jaunt in the second period. Donnie Brunson ran the extra point.

Morris Douglas turned in the second long sprint of the night in the same quarter with a 90-yard runback of a punt. Brunson ran to make it 21-0 at halftime.

Brunson went 14 yards in the third period for the final touchdown and Douglas got the PAT.

Manchester was the running star for the losers.

MANGHAM, 6-0

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special)—Noble Ellington ran seven yards with two minutes left in the first half to give Mangham its only touchdown and a 6-0 victory over Farmerville here last night.

Mangham, 2-B district entry, made seven first downs to five for their class A rival and gained 138 yards, all on the ground. The Dragons didn't throw a pass while Farmerville threw 12 and connected on four for 56 yards. The Farmers gained 125 yards on the ground to take the edge in overall yardage.

SCORE IN FIRST PERIOD

Rebels Capture Grueling 7-0 Decision Over Neville

West Monroe went 63 yards for a touchdown the first time they had the ball and battled off four Neville threats to win, 7-0, in a grueling traditional tussle at West Monroe last night.

Jerry Stovall, an offensive and defensive star all night, went three yards to cap the Rebel drive in the first quarter for a touchdown and then booted the PAT for the seven points that stood up the rest of the way. Inexperienced Neville, expected to be in for a lean year after several fat ones, battled back gamely, grinding to the four in the second quarter, to the 26 in the 3rd, to the 13 in the fourth, and moving again on the 29 when time ran out.

After a beautifully played first half, the second was marred by penalties and fumbles but highlighted by great defensive play. Tackles were the defensive stars, Jimmy Bell for West Monroe and Ross Noland and Mickey Cox for Bill Ruple's Tigers. Stovall also turned in a tremendous defensive game for the Rebels. Guard James Hunt also starred for Neville.

Halfback John Moses, who shared the heavy running with Stovall for West Monroe, ended the second Neville threat with the only interception of the night, batting down a Joe Turner pass and pulling it in to half the drive at the 13. Cox had set up the Tiger threat with a fumble recovery on the 38.

Joe Cage, Gene Howard and Joe Turner powered the Neville drives with Cage and Turner alternating at quarterback and right half. Both passed often, several times to each other. Neville went to the 4 in the second quarter before the Reb defense, led by Stovall and Bell, stiffened and threw them back to the 9. Neville went to the 26 in the third but three incomplete passes and a Cage lost of 14 yards ended the threat.

After Cox's recovery of a fumble in the fourth, Cage threw to Dooley Haddad for 25 yards with the halfback almost going all the way. He was downed on the 13 and Moses came up with his interception to end it.

With slightly over a minute left in the game, Neville took over on the Rebel 47 and Cage clicked with a pass to Wayne Bassett for 12 and Howard moved to the 29 before time ran out.

West Monroe, also fielding an inexperienced club after a fine season last year, deserved to win. They moved well in their scoring drive but sputtered the rest of the time. Their defense was tough when it had to be which was often.

Viewed by a standing room crowd of approximately 4,500, the game was forgotten for a moment in the last half when a fight at the south end sent the crowd surging that way. Inter-school raids preceded the game and a big "N" was burned in the middle of the field. It was the nearest thing to a touchdown Neville scored.

White Sox Rally To Whip Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Chicago White Sox came from behind with a three-run rally in the seventh inning Friday night, defeating the Cleveland Indians 4-3. A game-winning single by Jim Landis scored Sherm Lollar, who had tied the score with a two-run double.

Larry Doby drove in all three Cleveland runs with a home run and a single. Al Smith homered for Chicago.

Herb Score, who relieved starter Don Mossi, was charged with the loss. Coming in with the Indians leading 3-1 and two men on base, Score gave up Lollar's double and the game-winning single by Landis.

Early Wynn picked up his 13th victory to go with the same amount of losses. It was his fourth win over the Tribe, who have been unable to beat the big right-hander since they traded him to Chicago.

GORY MESS

Basilio Knocks Out Aragon In 8

By JACK CUDDY

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Carmen Basilio, former welterweight and middleweight champion, launched an impressive comeback Friday night by battering Art (Golden Boy) Aragon to body and head until his face was a gory mask and scored a knockout in the eighth round at Wrigly Field.

Referee Tommy Hart stopped the fight at 1:27 of the eighth round to save Aragon, of Los Angeles, from further punishment, a conclusion that is a full-fledged knockout in the state of California.

Basilio, making his first start since he lost the middleweight title to Sugar Ray Robinson on March 25, gave Aragon a terrific beating in their fight, which had many blistering exchanges that evoked roars of applause from the estimated 22,000 fans.

Basilio, weighing 155½ pounds to Aragon's 152, was staggered himself three times in the fifth round and was well-shaken up by left hooks and sneaker rights in the third and fourth sessions.

However, rugged Carmen, who never has been stopped in his career of 72 fights, came blazing back every time and continued to beat Aragon on the body and head.

His impressive victory is expected to clinch another shot at the middleweight crown. Champion Robinson promised to meet Friday's winner early next year unless Sugar Ray decides to retire meanwhile.

Referee Hart explained as he came down the ring steps, "I stopped the fight to save him for further punishment. It's a knockout."

Swarthy, dark - haired Aragon, slightly taller than Carmen, put up a game fight and tried to knock out the ex-champ until his legs were gone and he was taking punch after punch without return in the eighth round.

A right to the chin staggered Art, the 5-1 underdog, and then a left hook to the same target sent him staggering backwards in the eighth round with blood pouring from five cuts on his face. It was then that the referee stepped in.

Aragon still has the distinction of never having taken the count in his 101 bouts, but this was the second time one of his fights has been stopped.

On May 11, 1948, Clyde Cohis was given a technical knockout over Art because of cuts.

On a 10-point must basis, the three ring officials had Basilio well ahead at the end of the seventh round.

Their cards read as follows: referee Hart, 70-57; Judge Jimmy Wilson, 69-60, and Judge George Latka, 70-62.

The United Press International agreed, 68-61.

U.S. Leading In America's Cup Matches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor crushed the amateur champs of Canada and Mexico Friday and led the U. S. forces into huge lead in the fourth Americas Cup match.

Given the No. 1 role in singles, the 41-year-old dentist from Pomona, Calif., helped collect four points for the U. S. team in the first half of the two-day, three-way international match.

Dr. Taylor, runnerup in last year's National Amateur Golf Championship, first teamed with Bill Hyndman III, a lanky Philadelphian, to pick up two points in the morning alternate stroke sixsomes. Then he went out alone and trounced Bruce Castator of Toronto, the 1958 Canadian champion, 6 and 5, and Juan Antonio Estrada, Mexico's amateur titlist, 6 and 4.

It was the most impressive performance of a day which saw the cup defenders rally from a shaky start and pile up a huge lead. At the end of the first day, the scores stood United States 15, Canada 8 and Mexico 4.

Teamed with defending amateur champion Hillman Robbins in the morning, Ward won one point and lost one in the sixsomes. They needed 80 strokes to get around. It was the same in the afternoon. Ward went out in 40, took a 3 and 2 licking from Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ontario, but won easily 4 and 3 from Mexico's Rafael Quiroz.

Charlie Coe, Okalhoma City, and Rex Baxter Jr., of Amarillo, Tex., also were two-point winners in the singles after they teamed in the morning to earn 1½ points.

No Yankees Left To Play Semi-Finals

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Queenslander Mal Anderson cut big Dick Savitt's resistance in one marathon set Friday and scored an 18-16, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3 victory which produced the first all-foreign men's semifinals in 77 years of the U.S. National Tennis Championships.

Flam, only U.S. semifinalist a year ago, went down 7-5, 8-6, 8-6.

So three Australians and a Scandinavian are left to battle for the championship won a year ago by Anderson.

It was the darkest day ever in American tennis. Oldsters had to go back to 1926 to recall a similarly disheartening turn of events. That year Big Bill Tilden and Little Bill Johnston fell in the quarter-finals, leaving three Frenchmen—Rene Lacoste, Jean Borotra and Henri Cochet—and America's Vinnie Richards. Lacoste won it.

Only in the women's division could the Americans in the crowd of 7,000 at the West Side Tennis Club take a great deal of pride.

Boston Raps Orioles, 10-2, With 14 Hits

BALTIMORE (AP) — Boston's heavy artillery belted Baltimore pitching for 14 hits and a 10-2 victory Friday night.

Runnels, who had doubled home a run in the seventh, knocked in a pair in the eighth with a single to wind up Boston's scoring.

FERRIDAY 18, BLOCK 0

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — The Ferriday High School Bulldogs, avenging their loss to Block that ended a long unbeaten string of four years last September, toppled the Block High Bears of Jonesville, 18-0, here last night.

James Poole, a 215-pound fullback, powered the Ferriday machine to its first two touchdowns, going for the opening dash for the next in the second quarter.

PINEVILLE 27, WINNFIELD 0

In the first quarter, Tom Orr, quarterback, passed to right halfback Henry Vicnair for 27 yards and the first score. Fullback John Harris plunged over for the PAT.

Harris dashed 16 yards in the second quarter and ran for the extra point, giving Pineville a 14-0 lead at the end of the half.

Orr on a 10-yard sprint in the third accounted for the third TD, and Harris scored on a 10-yard run in the final quarter. He also ran for the extra point.

CROWVILLE 26, ST. JOE 6

CROWVILLE, La. (Special) — The Crowville Bulldogs, spurred on by Raymond Williams, romped to a 26-6 win over the St. Joseph Warriors here last night.

Williams ran for two touchdowns on sprints of 40 and 50 yards. A 20-yard pass from James Arnold to John Brown accounted for another Bulldog TD, while Truman Johnson ran 45 yards for the fourth marker.

Pete Halley kicked the two extra points.

WINNSBORO VICTOR

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — The Winnsboro Wildcats stormed the defenses of the Newellton Bears for a 38-7 victory here last night with Frank Peoples leading the way with three touchdowns.

After Bennie Wiggins skirted left end from the 15 for the first touchdown, Peoples came through to score on a 40-yard dash. Peoples followed with a 59-yard TD run in the second period, and capped his night's work with a 65-yard run in the third quarter.

Quarterback Joe Henry bucked the line from the three for a third quarter TD, and J. D. Busby, fullback, scooped a Newellton fumble out of the air and went 40 yards for the last Wildcat touchdown. Pete Moore added extra points behind Peoples' second TD and the Busby tally.

Milford McVey broke Winnsboro's bid for a shutout when he took a pitchout on a six-yard end run to paydirt for the Bears in the last quarter.

Score by quarters:

Newellton	0	0	0	7	- 7

HORNETS DROP EAGLES

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) —The Rayville High Hornets walked over the Holly Ridge Eagles, 18-0, in their season-opening football game here last night to avenge their 1957 loss to the invaders.

In the second quarter Stuart Dyer fired a pass to Iler Ellis from 20 yards out to account for the second TD, and James Mayo slashed off tackle from the four for the final touchdown.

BERNICE WHIPS ARCADIA

BERNICE, La. (Special) — A scoreless first half turned into a 13-0 victory for the Bernice Bears last night as they opened up after halftime to trounce the Arcadia Hornets.

The district 1-B match saw Fullback Bo Smith snatch a handoff early in the third quarter to score the first TD.

A 50-yard pass from Buzzy Green to Smith in the final stanza gave the Bears their second and final TD. Green made the PAT on a quarterback sneak.

Arcadia drove to the Bears 20-yard line in the second quarter but failed to score. Observers said the Bears' backfield put on a good running game and that the team showed up better than in the West Monroe Jamboree.

The bears will play the Homer B-team Thursday.

PANTHERS TRIP TIGERS

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) —The Lake Providence Panthers, considered a darkhorse candidate in the district two Class B race this year, opened the season with a 14-7 victory over the Sicily Island Tigers, for several years a power in district 3-B.

But Sicily Island came charging back to drive to the Lake Providence two from where fullback Johnny Weston rammed over center for the Island TD. A pass from Charles Miller to Weston was good for the tying point.

Then on the kickoff to Lake Providence, Walter Parker carried 23 yards for a filrst down, Purvis Thomas and Bill Richardson, in two tries, put the ball on the Sicily Island 27. Then Burton scampered around right end for the final TD. Burton also ran for the point.

Most of the game's action was packed into the first quarter. In the third period Lake Providence covered 60 yards to paydirt, but had the TD erased by a penalty. Then in the last period Purvis went all the way again, only to have another penalty cut out the play.

Sicily Island led in first downs, 10 to 6.

DELHI 57, START 0

DELHI, La. (Special) Delhi went on a scoring binge last night and bowled over Start with a spectacular 57 to 0.

Ken Newton started the march of victory in the first quarter with two touchdowns. Timmy Hutchinson kicked both extra points.

Entering the second quarter, Delhi really began to roll with four touchdowns by Nickie Smith, Leo Coleman, Billy Martin and Thomas Hosea.

Half-time score was 38 to 0.

Johnny Hopper and Timmy Hutchinson did the honors in the third quarter with a touchdown each to their credit. No extra points were made.

Delhi slowed down in the fourth quarter and made one touchdown with Kent Fuller bursting into the end zone. Hutchinson booted the extra point, making the score 57 to 0.

Receiving only one kickoff in the first of the second half, Delhi ran up their high score by intercepting passes and recovering fumbles and punts.

TALLULAH BOWS

VICKSBURG, Miss. (Special)—The Tallulah High Trojans, defending Class A football champions of Louisiana, fell before Vicksburg's Big Eight contenders, the Carr Central Greenies, 19 to 6, here last night.

Danny Neumann, Tallulah's all-state back, rammed one yard over tackle after a 41-yard march in the first quarter for the lone Tallulah touchdown.

Vicksburg's Jim McBride capped a 65-yard march with a touchdown plunge from the one after a 39-yard pass for McBride to Landy Teller had set up the play.

Next, Larry Ludkie sprinted 40 yards off tackle, and David Smith went six yards off tackle for the final TD after recovering a Tallulah fumble at the Trojan six. G. N. Robinson kicked the lone Carr PAT.

ISTROUMA WINS

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Playing without the services of star quarterback Lynn Amedee, Istrouma was directed to a 14-0 victory over Lake Charles by his understudy, Jack Webb, Friday night.

Amedee will be sidelined for at least one more game with a leg injury received in a pre-season scrimmage.

Webb scored one of his team's two touchdowns midway the fourth quarter on a six-yard rollout play run to climax a 61-yard drive, Istrouma's only sustained march of the game.

Istrouma's other touchdown came late in the first period after a 64-yard return of a pass interception by halfback Steve Ward. Ward, finally downed on the Lake Charles seven, scored three plays later from the one.

J-H WINS, 28-0

JONESBORO, La (Special) — Jonesboro - Hodge struck for three first half touchdowns, two on long runs, and cruised to a 28-0 victory over Jena here last night in a battle of class AA rivals.

Johnny Garrett threw seven yards to Dennis Mann for the first touchdown in the first quarter and Ronnie Carson ran over the PAT. Fullback Carson scored the second TD on a sparkling 79-yard jaunt in the second period. Donnie Brunson ran the extra point.

Morris Douglas turned in the second long sprint of the night in the same quarter with a 90-yard runback of a punt. Brunson ran to make it 21-0 at halftime.

Brunson went 14 yards in the third period for the final touchdown and Douglas got the PAT.

Manchester was the running star for the losers.

MANGHAM, 6-0

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special)—Noble Ellington ran seven yards with two minutes left in the first half to give Mangham its only touchdown and a 6-0 victory over Farmerville here last night.

Mangham, 2-B district entry, made seven first downs to five for their class A rival and gained 138 yards, all on the ground. The Dragons didn't throw a pass while Farmerville threw 12 and connected on four for 56 yards. The Farmers gained 125 yards on the ground to take the edge in overall yardage.

Dodgers Master Cardinals, 2 To 1

ST. Louis (AP) — Held to three hits, all in one inning, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Friday night.

All the scoring in the game came in the second inning.

Steve Bilko's single and Don Zimmer's pop fly double put runners in scoring position off Cardinal starter Vinegar Bend Mizell. Charlie Neal's single to left—the last hit the Dodgers were to get in the ballgame—provided the victory margin.

In the Card's half they managed to load the bases with none out against starter Fred Kipp. Kipp managed to get out of the inning with but one tolly against him. Ken Boyer, Del Ennis and Gene Green all hit scratch singles and Boyer scored on Wally Moon's infield out.

Kipp left the game in the seventh in favor of Clem Labine. Kipp, having walked Wally Moon and giving up a single to Eddie Kasko, seemed to be tiring although he had struck out Gene Green. Labine retired pinch hitter Stan Musial on a pop fly and made Irv Noren hit an infield out.

Mizell left in the seventh for a pinch batter. He was replaced by Bill Wight who lasted less than an inning. After Junior Gilliam walked and Gino Cimoli sacrificed, Phil Paine came to the mound. He inherited a 2-2 count on Carl Furillo and made him pop to Cunningham.

The win gave Kipp a 6-4 record. Mizell is 9-11.

MYSTERY MAN, PERUVIAN

By ED CORRIGAN

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The 1958 edition of the U.S. Davis Cup team — including mystery man Don Kierbow and Peruvian Alex Olmedo—was named Friday.

There were 12 names on the list, and Capt. Perry Jones emphasized that all would not be taken to Australia. He said there even might be some additions, although the group includes just about every available top player in the country.

Jones said he will have the entire squad under his wing for the Pacific Southwest Championship starting next Friday and the Pacific Coast championships the following week. After that, he will pull them all together for some tough practice and begin weeding out the players he can't use.

"We hope to leave for Australia around Nov. 15." He said. "Furthermore, I think we have a good chance against the Australians despite talk to the contrary."

The most intriguing name of all, of course was Kierbow, the unknown. This 21-year-old never has won a major title (he defeated Whitney Reed and Flam and won the Ojai, Calif., tournament in April). Yet Jones is high on him.

"We consider him one of the finest prospects in tennis," said Jones. "Jack Kramer, who is helping me coach the team, says Don has the best service and one of the finest backhands he's ever seen.

"We are going to throw him in against the topnotchers in the two Pacific tournaments and see how he can do. I like to call him my secret weapon, and I think he might have a lot to say in the challenge round. But he does not have a place on the team clinched. After next week, he won't be a secret any more, so we'll all see."

Kierbow is 6-3½ and weighs 175 pounds. He tore a ligament in his left foot in the spring and took the cast off too soon, so he could not make the circuit.

As for Olmedo, who has caused some comment because he is a citizen of Peru, Cup Selection Committee Chairman Jim Moffett said only one member of the 25-man committee was against Olmedo's inclusion. He wouldn't say who it was.

But unofficial sources said former U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. President Renville McMann fought the selection.

"Olmedo accepted the invitation and was delighted," said Jones. "We always considered him one of our own players anyhow. We have been assured there will be no repercussions of any kind from the governments involved."

He said he intends to team Olmedo and Richardson as his No. 1 doubles combination, and hopes to get another good one out of Patty and Kierbow or MacKay and Giammalva.

Olmedo and Richardson are the U.S. doubles champions. Jones also said that no policy had been made on whether players could bring wives. Richardson refused to make the trip last year because he wasn't permitted to bring his wife.

FROSH HOPES LIGHT

Newcomers Bid For Tech Berths

RUSTON, La. (Special)—There are a number of newcomers, both transfers and freshmen, scrapping for berths on the Louisiana Tech football roster at the end of the first week of practice.

Most notable of the newcomers is Jerry Hudson of Springhill, a transfer student who is expected to make a strong bid for a starting assignment at end.

Other first - year men at Tech bidding for a place on the roster and paying their own way are Joe Ben Welch, Zachary, halfback; Robert McDowell, Zachary, a guard; George Rhea, Minden, halfback; Bruce Hardcastle, Plain Dealing, tackle and Rex Fair, Natchitoches, fullback.

Tech, like last year, will field a young club this season somewhat short on expereince. There are 19 sophomores on the club, nine of whom won letters last year as freshmen.

Freshman monogram winners last season were:

13-HIT ATTACK

Reds Maul Phils For 8-4 Triumph

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs collected 13 hits off four Philadelphia pitchers, good for five runs in the sixth inning alone, and won 8-4 over the Phillies Friday night.

Gus Bell and Jerry Lynch each drove in three of the Redlegs' runs as the Phils suffered their fourth straight downfall. Robin Roberts was clubbed for his 13th loss, against 14 victories. Don Newcombe got credit for the win, his sixth against 11 losses, but needed a lift from Brooks Lawrence when the September heat wore him down after six innings.

Roberts gave up four straight singles before being lifted in the sixth inning. They went to George Crowe, Alex Grammas, Roy McMillan, and Newcombe, Crowe and Grammas scoring before Jack Meyer went in to pitch. Meyer let McMillan advance on a wild pitch and walked Johnny Temple, filling the bases again.

Jerry Lynch forced Temple and McMillan scored on the play. Bell's triple brought in Newcombe and Lynch. Jack Sanford took over for Meyer. He got Frank Robinson to pop up, then nailed Smoky Burgess at first, ending the inning.

Vim, Columbia Score Evened In Boat Trial

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Vim evened the score with Columbia Friday, winning a thrilling America's Cup yacht trial race by the margin of only 10 seconds.

Friday Vim, the 19-year-old veteran owned by Capt. John Mathews of Oyster Bay, N.Y., sailed the 24-mile triangular course in 3 hours, 33 minutes, 3 seconds. Columbia's time was 3:33:13.

Vim led all the way, finishing about one boat length ahead of Columbia after a brilliant start by co-helmsman Bus Mosbacher Jr. of White Plains, N.Y.

The third race in the series to pick a defender to meet the British challenger, Sceptre, will be raced Saturday.

Ottawa Drops Leo Russavage

OTTAWA (AP) — The Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four Football League have released Leo Russavage, six-foot-four inch, 245-pound tackle from the University of North Carolina.

He was placed on the Riders' reserve list after last Saturday's game against the Montreal Alouettes which Ottawa lost 11-9.

Bev Hanson's 69 Sets Pace In Gold Meet

DALLAS (AP) — Tall Beverly Hanson, the willowy blonde from Indio, Calif., whipped the Glen Lakes Country Club golf course with a 3 under par 69 Friday to take the first round lead in the $8,500 Dallas Women's Open.

Miss Hanson, second leading money winner with more than $10,000, laughed at high winds and an occasional drizzle of rain to post 35-34 over the 6,238-yard course. She wound up a stroke ahead of Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C.

Miss Rawls' 70 was the score she had last April, tying for the first round lead when the tournament was postponed because of rain. Miss Hanson's iron game was blazing. She was drilling so close to the pin she had few long putts to make. She missed one from 2 feet that would have given her an eagle on the eighth hole but otherwise had absolutely no trouble on the greens.

She blasted out of a trap on 5 and sank a 4-footer for a birdie. Her longest putt was a 15 footer on 12.

Tying for third with 71 were Wanda Sanchez of Baton Rouge, La., and Jackie Pung, the stocky Hawaiian from San Francisco.

Trying for 4th were Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Mickey Wright, the women's national open champion from San Diego, Calif.

The leaders:

Beverly Hanson	35-34—69
Betsy Rawls	36-34—70

Gallant Man Heads Field For Sysonby

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gallant Man, who figured in a million dollar horse trade Thursday, launches a fall campaign designed to sweep "Horse of the Year" honors Saturday in the $25,000 added Sysonby Handicap at Belmont Park.

A three-quarter interest in Gallant Man was sold for one million dollars by Ralph Lowe of Midland, Tex., to a syndicate headed by Leslie B. Combs II, Lexington, Ky. That fixed the worth of a quarter share in the thoroughbred at $333,333 and his total value at $1,333,333, topping the record $1,251,250 paid by another Combs-headed syndicate for Nashua.

Gallant Man, a little colt who has been lightly raced through his career, carries high weight of 134 pounds in the Sysonby, a warmup for several richer races to be decided within the next few months. Never before has the son of Migoli been given such an imposing burden although he did win the Metropolitan Handicap and the Hollywood Gold Cup under 130 pounds and the Sunset Handicap under 132 pounds this year.

In his only other start this season, Gallant Man was third behind Bold Ruler in the Carter Handicap. He avenged that defeat in the Metropolitan.

Gallant Man looms as an odds-on favorite in the mile sprint even though he must spot from 10 to 22 pounds to his seven rivals. Eddie Arcaro rides him for the first time since Willie Shoemaker, Gallant Man's regular jockey, rides Tommy Lee in the Del Mar Futurity in California.

The others entered in the Sysonby were Reneged, 124 (Bobby Ussery); Cohoes, 116 (Johnny Ruane); Mister Jive, 113 (Hedley Woodhouse); Admiral Vee, 113 (Ted Atkinson); Tick Tock, 111 (Bill Boland); Ambergris, 108 (Paul Bailey); and Ocelote, 108 (Carroll Bierman).

Rebs Planning Special Train To Little Rock

A special train for the West Monroe Rebels' invasion of Little Rock, Ark., next Friday is being planned and over 200 passengers are already assured, it was announced yesterday.

The West Monroe Quarterback Club, supporting the special train arrangements, are seeking at least 40 passengers and hope to be able to announce Wednesday assurance of the Missouri Pacific railroad accomodations.

Roundtrip tickets are going for $7.50 and include bus transportation to be furnished by the Missouri Pacific from the Little Rock railroad station to and from the football field.

Reservations are being made by City Drug, Deacon and Lolley, Joe F. Smith, Economy Auto, Ramsey Jewelry, Calvert's Drugs, Brooks Drugs, Colbert Hardware and a ticket booth will be at W.M.H.S. next week.

The train, if contracted for, would leave here about noon Friday, arriving in Little Rock in time to allow passengers to get their supper before going to the game.

Foytack Hurls Bengals Past Athletics, 4-1

DETROIT (AP) — Right-hander Paul Foytack pitched a sparkling five-hitter and the Detroit Tigers defeated seventh - place Kansas City Athletics Friday 4-1 before 1,883 spectators, the smallest Detroit crowd in two seasons.

Foytack's mates staked him to a 3-0 lead in the first inning and he sailed to his 12th triumph with no difficulty.

He beat the A's with a four-hitter on Labor Day and earlier this season pitched a three-hitter against them but lost the decision.

Giants, Cubs To Complete Series Next Two Days

CHICAGO (AP) — Rained out Friday, the San Francisco Giants and the Chicago Cubs will complete their 1958 Chicago competition the next two days.

A single game will be played Saturday, and the postponed contest will be part of a Sunday doubleheader.

Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants said infielder Daryl Spencer has recovered from a leg injury and will play in all three games.

However, third baseman Jim Davenport, also nursing a leg injury, probably will miss the series, Rigney said.

Sectional Legion Playoff Delayed

PONCHATOULA, La. (AP) — The final game of the American Legion junior baseball sectional playoff between Greenwood, S. C., and New Orleans was postponed Friday night until Saturday because of power failure and wet grounds.

The game was reset for 3 p.m.

VIRDON BREAKS IT UP

Pirates Need 10 Innings To Down Braves, 1 To 0

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh's Bill Virdon broke up a tight pitching duel between rookies Carlton Willey of Milwaukee and George Witt of the Pirates Friday night when he hit a 10th inning home run for a 1-0 victory.

The victory in the first of a four-game series with the Braves here moved the Pirates into a tie for second place with the San Francisco Giants, who were rained out at Chicago. Both teams are now 8½ games behind the league-leading Braves.

Witt, who has been idle with an inflamed elbow, notched his eighth victory compared to two defeats. He fanned three and walked four.

Willey, now 9-5, walked four and struck out five.

Witt had no difficulty until the seventh inning. Wes Covington led off for the Braves with a single. Frank Torre bounced into a doubleplay, but Del Crandall walked and stole second. Bill Bruton was given an intentional walk, but Witt fanned Willey to retire the side.

Willey, who shut out the Pirates 2-0 in Milwaukee last Sunday, was in an uncomfortable position several times but managed to pitch his way out of the jams.

LOOKING FOR FIRST TEAM

Indians Undergo Grid Scrimmage

Head Coach Jack Rowan and his aides were looking for a frontline team Thursday afternoon as they put their gold, maroon, blue and green teams through the second half-hour scrimmage of the season at Northeast.

The Indian mentor began weighing the potential of individuals and seeking replacements for positions left vacant by Spring graduates. All positions on the squad are still open and being competed for.

"I am pleased with the way the boys are progressing and they are catching on to the new system we are introducing. Lots of spirit and hustle has been shown," said Rowan.

Robert McGough has been shifted from fullback to left halfback and is adapting himself well. Jim Laudadio moved over from the left half slot to the right half position. Roger Coats, a transfer who played fullback before coming to Northeast last Spring where he was moved to center, has been reconverted to his original position.

Season football tickets are being sold in Monroe at R&A Jewelers, Simmons Esso Service on Louisville Avenue and at Calvert's Drug in West Monroe, as well as, the Northeast Athletic Office in Brown Hall. A few more box seats are left.

WIN ON PASSES

Senators Defeat Yankees, 6 To 3

NEW YORK (AP)—Relief ace Ryne Duren walked home three runs with two out in the ninth that gave Washington a 6-3 victory over the New York Yankees Friday night after the Senators had blown a 3-0 lead built on home runs by Roy Sievers and Albie Pearson.

It was the first defeat since July 19 for Duren (6-4), who came on in the ninth after 20 - game winner Bob Turley had been lifted for a pinch hitter as the Yankees tied it 3-all in the eighth.

Dick Hyde (10-3) was the winner in relief, shutting off the Yankees in the eighth, and with his 19 saves has now figured in more than half of Washington's 56 victories for the season. This was Hyde's 49th appearance.

Russ Kemmerer was the Washington starter and he blanked the Yankees without a hit until Bobby Richardson led off the sixth with a single. The Yankees added two more singles and Jerry Lumpe's sacrifice fly that cut the Nats' lead to 3-1 before Kemmerer ended the inning by striking out Mickey Mantle and getting Yogi Berra on a foul pop.

It was Mantle's 112th strikeout of the year, cracking the Yankee record he set with 111 whiffs in 1952.

The Yanks chased Kemmerer in the eighth, when two singles and a wild pitch scored one run and Berra tied it with a sacrifice fly against Hyde.

The Senators, who haven't beaten Turley since May 30, 1955, got going with Sievers' 35th home run in the second inning. It was his first in 16 games, his seventh of the year against the Yankees and fifth at Yankee Stadium.

Li'l Albie pickled his in the sixth following a single by Eddie Yost. It was Pearson's third.

Texas League Will Request Majors' Help

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas League will meet here Monday to map a plan of action for obtaining aid from the big leagues.

President Dick Butler said Friday the club owners would study replies from 11 major league clubs on the circuit's request that they furnish most of the players and bear part of the expense.

The request was made at the meeting of the league in July, it being stated then that this would be necessary to insure operations next year.

A reply that was "favorable in principle" to the league's request came from each of the 11 big clubs, Butler said.

"What we plan to do is to review our situation, determine what we need for next season and go en masse to a meeting of the major league farm directors at Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 16-17, telling them we now are ready to deal," Butler explained.

The Texas League this year is showing a gain in attendance and no club is in financial stress but club owners still say that they must have help if they are to continue operating as now constituted.

Under the plan with the majors, the Texas League clubs drew enough this year to have realized a profit.

Their proposal is that they develop major league clubs' young bonus players in exchange for the aid the big leagues give them. They would like to have a minimum of 12 young players—that is, players with less than five years' experience. The Texas League club would fill out its roster with veteran players.

Flood Of Cards Heads For Army

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Curt Flood, rookie center fielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, will leave soon to enlist in the army's six-month training program, the Cardinals said Friday.

Flood, whose home is in Oakland, Calif., plans to drive home next Thursday or Friday. He is to report for induction by mid-September.

He expects to be out of the service by next March 13.

Names Of Group That Purchased Racer Released

NEW YORK (AP) — Leslie Combs II of Lexington, Ky., announced Friday the complete list of names in the syndicate which now owns the 4-year-old colt, Gallant Man.

Ralph Lowe of Texas sold a three-quarter interest in Gallant Man to the syndicate for one million dollars.

Seek To Build Top Defense At Grambling

GRAMBLING, La. (Special)—Displeased over the lackadasical labor of the Grambling College gridders, defensive coach Leroy Hawthorne took another look at the ambitious schedule and emphasized that if somebody wants to block and tackle, "he'll be welcomed."

The coaching staff has no illusions about the nine-game card.

On successive weekends, the Tigers face Alcorn A and M, Paul Quinn, Tennessee State, Wiley, Prairie View, Jackson State, Texas Southern, Arkansas A and M and Mississippi Vocational.

Tennessee and Wiley were undefeated last fall and Grambling is still trying to dig out of the rubble of losses to Wiley, Prairie View, Jackson and Texas Southern.

A fancy appendage to the current card is the annual Louisiana State Fair game with Wiley in Shreveport Oct. 20.

Fortunately six games will be played at home in the new 12,000 seat stadium, five of them at night — Grambling's favorite playtime.

MYSTERY MAN, PERUVIAN

By ED CORRIGAN

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The 1958 edition of the U.S. Davis Cup team — including mystery man Don Kierbow and Peruvian Alex Olmedo—was named Friday.

There were 12 names on the list, and Capt. Perry Jones emphasized that all would not be taken to Australia. He said there even might be some additions, although the group includes just about every available top player in the country.

Jones said he will have the entire squad under his wing for the Pacific Southwest Championship starting next Friday and the Pacific Coast championships the following week. After that, he will pull them all together for some tough practice and begin weeding out the players he can't use.

"We hope to leave for Australia around Nov. 15." He said. "Furthermore, I think we have a good chance against the Australians despite talk to the contrary."

The most intriguing name of all, of course was Kierbow, the unknown. This 21-year-old never has won a major title (he defeated Whitney Reed and Flam and won the Ojai, Calif., tournament in April). Yet Jones is high on him.

"We consider him one of the finest prospects in tennis," said Jones. "Jack Kramer, who is helping me coach the team, says Don has the best service and one of the finest backhands he's ever seen.

"We are going to throw him in against the topnotchers in the two Pacific tournaments and see how he can do. I like to call him my secret weapon, and I think he might have a lot to say in the challenge round. But he does not have a place on the team clinched. After next week, he won't be a secret any more, so we'll all see."

Kierbow is 6-3½ and weighs 175 pounds. He tore a ligament in his left foot in the spring and took the cast off too soon, so he could not make the circuit.

As for Olmedo, who has caused some comment because he is a citizen of Preu, Cup Selection Committee Chairman Jim Moffett said only one member of the 25-man committee was against Olmedo's inclusion. He wouldn't say who it was.

But unofficial sources said former U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. President Renville McMann fought the selection.

"Olmedo accepted the invitation and was delighted," said Jones. "We always considered him one of our own players anyhow. We have been assured there will be no repercussions of any kind from the governments involved."

He said he intends to team Olmedo and Richardson as his No. 1 doubles combination, and hopes to get another good one out of Patty and Kierbow or MacKay and Giammalva.

Olmedo and Richardson are the U.S. doubles champions. Jones also said that no policy had been made on whether players could bring wives. Richardson refused to make the trip last year because he wasn't permitted to bring his wife.

FROSH HOPES LIGHT

Newcomers Bid For Tech Berths

RUSTON, La. (Special)—There are a number of newcomers, both transfers and freshmen, scrapping for berths on the Louisiana Tech football roster at the end of the first week of practice.

Most notable of the newcomers is Jerry Hudson of Springhill, a transfer student who is expected to make a strong bid for a starting assignment at end.

Other first - year men at Tech bidding for a place on the roster and paying their own way are Joe Ben Welch, Zachary, halfback; Robert McDowell, Zachary, a guard; George Rhea, Minden, halfback; Bruce Hardcastle, Plain Dealing, tackle and Rex Fair, Natchitoches, fullback.

Tech, like last year, will field a young club this season somewhat short on expereince. There are 19 sophomores on the club, nine of whom won letters last year as freshmen.

Freshman monogram winners last season were:

13-HIT ATTACK

Reds Maul Phils For 8-4 Triumph

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs collected 13 hits off four Philadelphia pitchers, good for five runs in the sixth inning alone, and won 8-4 over the Phillies Friday night.

Gus Bell and Jerry Lynch each drove in three of the Redlegs' runs as the Phils suffered their fourth straight downfall. Robin Roberts was clubbed for his 13th loss, against 14 victories. Don Newcombe got credit for the win, his sixth against 11 losses, but needed a lift from Brooks Lawrence when the September heat wore him down after six innings.

Roberts gave up four straight singles before being lifted in the sixth inning. They went to George Crowe, Alex Grammas, Roy McMillan, and Newcombe, Crowe and Grammas scoring before Jack Meyer went in to pitch. Meyer let McMillan advance on a wild pitch and walked Johnny Temple, filling the bases again.

Jerry Lynch forced Temple and McMillan scored on the play. Bell's triple brought in Newcombe and Lynch. Jack Sanford took over for Meyer. He got Frank Robinson to pop up, then nailed Smoky Burgess at first, ending the inning.

Vim, Columbia Score Evened In Boat Trial

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Vim evened the score with Columbia Friday, winning a thrilling America's Cup yacht trial race by the margin of only 10 seconds.

Friday Vim, the 19-year-old veteran owned by Capt. John Matthews of Oyster Bay, N.Y., sailed the 24-mile triangular course in 3 hours, 33 minutes, 3 seconds. Columbia's time was 3:33:13.

Vim led all the way, finishing about one boat length ahead of Columbia after a brilliant start by co-helmsman Bus Mosbacher Jr. of White Plains, N.Y.

The third race in the series to pick a defender to meet the British challenger, Sceptre, will be raced Saturday.

Ottawa Drops Leo Russavage

OTTAWA (AP) — The Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four Football League have released Leo Russavage, six-foot-four inch, 245-pound tackle from the University of North Carolina.

He was placed on the Riders' reserve list after last Saturday's game against the Montreal Alouettes which Ottawa lost 11-9.

Bev Hanson's 69 Sets Pace In Gold Meet

DALLAS (AP) — Tall Beverly Hanson, the willowy blonde from Indio, Calif., whipped the Glen Lakes Country Club golf course with a 3 under par 69 Friday to take the first round lead in the $8,500 Dallas Women's Open.

Miss Hanson, second leading money winner with more than $10,000, laughed at high winds and an occasional drizzle of rain to post 35-34 over the 6,238-yard course. She wound up a stroke ahead of Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C.

Miss Rawls' 70 was the score she had last April, tying for the first round lead when the tournament was postponed because of rain. Miss Hanson's iron game was blazing. She was drilling so close to the pin she had few long putts to make. She missed one from 2 feet that would have given her an eagle on the eighth hole but otherwise had absolutely no trouble on the greens.

She blasted out of a trap on 5 and sank a 4-footer for a birdie. Her longest putt was a 15 footer on 12.

Tying for third with 71 were Wanda Sanchez of Baton Rouge, La., and Jackie Pung, the stocky Hawaiian from San Francisco.

Trying for 4th were Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Mickey Wright, the women's national open champion from San Diego, Calif.

The leaders:

Beverly Hanson	35-34—69
Betsy Rawls	36-34—70

Rebs Planning Special Train To Little Rock

A special train for the West Monroe Rebels' invasion of Little Rock, Ark., next Friday is being planned and over 200 passengers are already assured, it was announced yesterday.

The West Monroe Quarterback Club, supporting the special train arrangements, are seeking at least 40 passengers and hope to be able to announce Wednesday assurance of the Missouri Pacific railroad accomodations.

Roundtrip tickets are going for $7.50 and include bus transportation to be furnished by the Missouri Pacific from the Little Rock railroad station to and from the football field.

Reservations are being made by City Drug, Deacon and Lolley, Joe F. Smith, Economy Auto, Ramsey Jewelry, Calveri's Drugs, Brooks Drugs, Colbert Hardware and a ticket booth will be at W.M.H.S. next week.

The train, if contracted for, would leave here about noon Friday, arriving in Little Rock in time to allow passengers to get their supper before going to the game.

Foytack Hurls Bengals Past Athletics, 4-1

DETROIT (AP) — Right-hander Paul Foytack pitched a sparkling five-hitter and the Detroit Tigers defeated seventh - place Kansas City Athletics Friday 4-1 before 1,883 spectators, the smallest Detroit crowd in two seasons.

Foytack's mates staked him to a 3-0 lead in the first inning and he sailed to his 12th triumph with no difficulty.

He beat the A's with a four-hitter on Labor Day and earlier this season pitched a three-hitter against them but lost the decision.

Gallant Man Heads Field For Sysonby

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gallant Man, who figured in a million dollar horse trade Thursday, launches a fall campaign designed to sweep "Horse of the Year" honors Saturday in the $25,000 added Sysonby Handicap at Belmont Park.

A three-quarter interest in Gallant Man was sold for one million dollars by Ralph Lowe of Midland, Tex., to a syndicate headed by Leslie B. Combs II, Lexington, Ky. That fixed the worth of a quarter share in the thoroughbred at $333,333 and his total value at $1,333,333, topping the record $1,251,250 paid by another Combsheaded syndicate for Nashua.

Gallant Man, a little colt who has been lightly raced through his career, carries high weight of 134 pounds in the Sysonby, a warmup for several richer races to be decided within the next few months. Never before has the son of Migoli been given such an imposing burden although he did win the Metropolitan Handicap and the Hollywood Gold Cup under 130 pounds and the Sunset Handicap under 132 pounds this year.

In his only other start this season, Gallant Man was third behind Bold Ruler in the Carter Handicap. He avenged that defeat in the Metropolitan.

Gallant Man lioms as an odds-on favorite in the mile sprint even though he must spot from 10 to 22 pounds to his seven rivals. Eddie Arcaro rides him for the first time since Willie Shoemaker, Gallant Man's regular jockey, rides Tommy Lee in the Del Mar Futurity in California.

The others entered in the Sysonby were Reneged, 124 (Bobby Ussery); Cohoes, 116 (Johnny Ruane); Mister Jive, 113 (Hedley Woodhouse); Admiral Vee, 113 (Ted Atkinson); Tick Tock, 111 (Bill Boland); Ambergris, 108 (Paul Bailey); and Ocelote, 108 (Carroll Bierman).

Giants, Cubs To Complete Series Next Two Days

CHICAGO (AP) — Rained out Friday, the San Francisco Giants and the Chicago Cubs will complete their 1958 Chicago competition the next two days.

A single game will be played Saturday, and the postponed contest will be part of a Sunday doubleheader.

Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants said infielder Daryl Spencer has recovered from a leg injury and will play in all three games.

However, third baseman Jim Davenport, also nursing a leg injury, probably will miss the series, Rigney said.

Sectional Legion Playoff Delayed

PONCHATOULA, La. (AP) — The final game of the American Legion junior baseball sectional playoff between Greenwood, S. C., and New Orleans was postponed Friday night until Saturday because of power failure and wet grounds.

The game was reset for 3 p.m.

Pirates Need 10 Innings To Down Braves, 1 To 0

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh's Bill Virdon broke up a tight pitching duel between rookies Carlton Willey of Milwaukee and George Witt of the Pirates Friday night when he hit a 10th inning home run for a 1-0 victory.

The victory in the first of a four-game series with the Braves here moved the Pirates into a tie for second place with the San Francisco Giants, who were rained out at Chicago. Both teams are now 8½ -games behind the league-leading Braves.

Witt, who has been idle witn an inflamed elbow, notched his eighth victory compared to two defeats. He fanned three and walked four.

Willey, now 9-5, walked four and struck out five.

Witt had no difficulty until the seventh inning. Wes Covington led off for the Braves with a single. Frank Torre bounced into a doubleplay, but Del Crandall walked and stole second. Bill Bruton was given an intentional walk, but Witt fanned Willey to retire the side.

Willey, who shut out the Pirates 2-0 in Milwaukee last Sunday, was in an uncomfortable position several times but managed to pitch his way out of the jams.

LOOKING FOR FIRST TEAM

Indians Undergo Grid Scrimmage

Head Coach Jack Rowan and his aides were looking for a frontline team Thursday afternoon as they put their gold, maroon, blue and green teams through the second half-hour scrimmage of the season at Northeast.

"I am pleased with the way the boys are progressing and they are catching on to the new system we are introducing. Lots of spirit and hustle has been shown," said Rowan.

Robert McGough has been shifted from fullback to left halfback and is adapting himself well. Jim Laudadio moved over from the left half slot to the right half position. Roger Coats, a transfer who played fullback before coming to Northeast last Spring where he was moved to center, has been reconverted to his original position.

Season football tickets are being sold in Monroe at R&A Jewelers, Simmons Esso Service on Louisville Avenue and at Calvert's Drug in West Monroe, as well as, the Northeast Athletic Office in Brown Hall. A few more box seats are left.

WIN ON PASSES

Senators Defeat Yankees, 6 To 3

NEW YORK (AP)—Relief ace Ryne Duren walked home three runs with two out in the ninth that gave Washington a 6-3 victory over the New York Yankees Friday night after the Senators had blown a 3-0 lead built on home runs by Roy Sievers and Albie Pearson.

It was the first defeat since July 19 for Duren (6-4), who came on in the ninth after 20 - game winner Bob Turley had been lifted for a pinch hitter as the Yankees tied it 3-all in the eighth.

Dick Hyde (10-3) was the winner in relief, shutting off the Yankees in the eighth, and with his 19 saves has now figured in more than half of Washington's 56 victories for the season. This was Hyde's 49th appearance.

Russ Kemmerer was the Washington starter and he blanked the Yankees without a hit until Bobby Richardson led off the sixth with a single. The Yankees added two more singles and Jerry Lumpe's sacrifice fly that cut the Nats' lead to 3-1 before Kemmerer ended the inning by striking out Mickey Mantle and getting Yogi Berra on a foul pop.

It was Mantle's 112th strikeout of the year, cracking the Yankee record he set with 111 whiffs in 1952.

The Yanks chased Kemmerer in the eighth, when two singles and a wild pitch scored one run and Berra tied it with a sacrifice fly against Hyde.

The Senators, who haven't beaten Turley since May 30, 1955, got going with Sievers' 35th home run in the second inning. If was his first in 16 games, his seventh of the year against the Yankees and fifth at Yankee Stadium.

Li'l Albie pickled his in the sixth folllowing a single by Eddie Yost. It was Pearson's third.

Texas League Will Request Majors' Help

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas League will meet here Monday to map a plan of action for obtaining aid from the big leagues.

President Dick Butler said Friday the club owners would study replies from 11 major league clubs on the circuit's request that they furnish most of the players and bear part of the expense.

The request was made at the meeting of the league in July, it being stated then that this would be necessary to insure operations next year.

A reply that was "favorable in principle" to the league's request came from each of the 11 big clubs, Butler said.

"What we plan to do is to review our situation, determine what we need for next season and go en masse to a meeting of the major league farm directors at Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 16-17, telling them we now are ready to deal," Butler explained.

The Texas League this year is showing a gain in attendance and no club is in financial stress but club owners still say that they must have help if they are to continue operating as now constituted.

Under the plan with the majors, the Texas League clubs drew enough this year to have realized a profit.

Their proposal is that they develop major league clubs' young bonus players in exchange for the aid the big leagues give them. They would like to have a minimum of 12 young players—that is, players with less than five years' experience. The Texas League club would fill out its roster with veteran players.

Flood Of Cards Heads For Army

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Curt Flood, rookie center fielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, will leave soon to enlist in the army's six-month training program, the Cardinals said Friday.

Flood, whose home is in Oakland, Calif., plans to drive home next Thursday or Friday. He is to report for induction by mid-September.

He expects to be out of the service by next March 13.

Seek To Build Top Defense At Grambling

GRAMBLING, La. (Special)—Displeased over the lackadasical labor of the Grambling College gridders, defensive coach Leroy Hawthorne took another look at the ambitious schedule and emphasized that if somebody wants to block and tackle, "he'll be welcomed."

The coaching staff has no illusions about the nine-game card.

On successive weekends, the Tigers face Alcorn A and M, Paul Quinn, Tennessee State, Wiley, Prairie View, Jackson State, Texas Southern, Arkansas A and M and Mississippi Vocational.

Tennessee and Wiley were undefeated last fall and Grambling is still trying to dig out of the rubble of losses to Wiley, Prairie View, Jackson and Texas Southern.

OUT OF WAR

Soviets Attempt To Frighten U.S.

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The Soviet Union now is trying to scare the United States, as the United States has been trying to scare Red China, out of a war over Quemoy.

The situation has become so incredible that all sanity indicates something will be done to break the tension and bring a return to stalemate.

The United States, through its highest officials, and the Soviet Union, through its government-operated newspapers, have now said in effect that they will go to war over an issue that involves their prestige but not, directly, their basic security.

It can be said with certainty of the United States, and almost with certainty of the Soviet Union, that they are in dreadful fear of the prospect.

A source in very good position to know said Soviet Premier Khrushchev expressed a very deep-seated and real fear, during talks with Egypt's President Nasser about the dispatch of Allied troops to the Middle East, that something terrible was beginning which would involve the Soviet Union.

But their methods appear on the surface to have handed the power of decision over world peace to the Chinese Communists.

If, however, the Soviet Union believes the United States will fight against an invasion of the Chinese offshore islands, then it will apply pressure behind the scenes to keep Peiping from offering the final provocation.

Great wars have been fought over less. The last world war was fought, basically, over the egomania of one or two men. But even these men thought they were going to fight a regional war.

The Soviet Union and the United States are facing each other. But in effect both are warning the Chinese Reds that if they start a war it cannot be regional.

To believe that the current issue will be permitted to produce a general war is to believe in a reign of insanity. This generation has seen the results of one reign of insanity.

The very frightfulness of the prospect warrants belief that it will be avoided. Some relaxation is expectable.

Reset Murder Trial For Miss. Loan Executive

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick Friday set Oct. 6 as the date Robert Quinnelly will stand trial a second time for murder in the shooting of his secretary.

Golden Wedding For The Haywoods Upcomng

The couple was married 50 years ago in Philadelphia, Pa., where they were both born. They moved shortly afterwards to Camden, New Jersey, where he held his first clergical position.

The special services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday. Immediately following their many friends are invited to a social hour in the parish house.

The five children will be in Monroe to celebrate the occasion. They are Edward Farren Hayward, Jr., Monroe; James E. Hayward, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Floyd (Ann) Stone, Jr., Monroe; Mrs. Bernard (Mary) Webb, Gainesville, Fla.; and Mrs. Frank (Helena) Morgan, Miami, Fla.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hayward came to Monroe from Houston, Tex., in 1921 as rector of the Old Grace Episcopal Church, then located where the Wright-Bendel Clinic presently stands. In 1923 fire destroyed the church and the present building, located on North Fourth street, was begun in the fall of 1925. The following year on Easter Sunday the first services wer held.

The Rev. Mr. Hayward served as rector of Grace Church until October of 1949, when he retired and became rector emeritus, the position he presently holds.

McCarter Home Setting For College Set Party

An unusual centerpiece was featured on the coffee table. A United States mail truck filled with appropriate notes and packages afforded the guests much enjoyment. The television set also turned collegiate for the morning with a full sized football helmet filled with large yellow mums.

After an hour of lively conversation and exchange of campus addresses, the hostess invited the freshmen - to - be into the dining room for coffee, pink lemonade, cookies, and nuts. Mrs. Marcus Mapp, mother of the honoree, presided at the silver service. A cavalcade of toy automobiles decorated with school colors surrounded the centerpiece of mums and hand made college mementos.

Many Parties Are Given In Oak Grove

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Russell entertained with a barbecue luncheon Sunday honoring her sister-in-law and brother Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Hill and two children, Diane, and Beverly, of Houston, Tex. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hass and two sons, Martin and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. Manie Hill, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Sandifer, and sons, Halbert, Jimmie and a daughter, Fannie Pearl.

Mrs. Fred Primm was hostess to the Emanon Bridge Club recently with Mrs. Edgar McCormick winning high score, Mrs. Dorothy Womack winning 2nd high, Mrs. Harry Rountree, low, and Mrs. Dorothy Lyon, honor prize, others playing were Mrs. Mary B. McCormick, Mrs. Joe Kelly, Mrs. Katie McIntosh, and Mrs. Ellis Womack. Refreshments of sandwiches, iced tea, and butterfly fruit salad were served by Mrs. Primm.

Miss Gail Weams entertained with a party Saturday at 10 a.m. honoring Miss Jo Ann Kelly, who is leaving soon for the Oxford division at Emory University in Atlanta, Ga.

Beautiful yellow mums and gladioli decorated the buffet and serving table with an embossed linen cloth. Miss Weams greeted the honoree at the door and pinned a lovely white carnation corsage on her, and a gift of her favorite perfume was presented to her, also.

Miss Weams was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Floyd Weams, and Miss Alene Holland in serving petit fours, sandwiches, mints and nuts, and cold drinks, to the following guests: Miss Billy Jean Rush, Miss Betsy Rountree, Miss Olivia Arnold, Miss Martha Anna Lipp, Miss Fredricka Primm, Miss Mary Elva Womack, Misses Gail Sawyer, and Martha McCabe.

Golden Wedding For The Haywoods Upcomng

The Rev. and Mrs. Edward Farren Hayward, rector emeritus of Grace Episcopal Church, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday with special services at the church and a coffee hour in the parish house on Glenmar Avenue.

The couple was married 50 years ago in Philadelphia, Pa., where they were both born. They moved shortly afterwards to Camden, New Jersey, where he held his first clergical position.

The special services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday. Immediately following their many friends are invited to a social hour in the parish house.

The five children will be in Monroe to celebrate the occasion. They are Edward Farren Hayward, Jr., Monroe; James E. Hayward, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Floyd (Ann) Stone, Jr., Monroe; Mrs. Bernard (Mary) Webb, Gainesville, Fla.; and Mrs. Frank (Helena) Morgan, Miami, Fla.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hayward came to Monroe from Houston, Tex. in 1921 as rector of the Old Grace Episcopal Church, then located where the Wright-Bendel Clinic presently stands. In 1923 fire destroyed the church and the present building, located on North Fourth street, was begun in the fall of 1925. The following year on Easter Sunday the first services wer held.

The Rev. Mr. Hayward served as rector of Grace Church until October of 1949, when he retired and became rector emeritus, the position he presently holds.

McCarter Home Setting For College Set Party

The den walls were festive with numerous colorful pennants representing many colleges that the guests would attend this fall. The center of attraction was a life sized rag doll seated at the telephone and crying big felt tears. Large lettering on the wall spelled out "Mama, I'm Broke!"

An unusual centerpiece was featured on the coffee table. A United States mail truck filled with appropriate notes and packages afforded the guests much enjoyment. The television set also turned collegiate for the morning with a full sized football helmet filled with large yellow mums.

After an hour of lively conversation and exchange of campus addresses, the hostess invited the freshmen - to - be into the dining room for coffee, pink lemonade, cookies, and nuts. Mrs. Marcus Mapp, mother of the honoree, presided at the silver service. A cavalcade of toy automobiles decorated with school colors surrounded the centerpiece of mums and hand made college mementos.

Many Parties Are Given In Oak Grove

Bored With Eating, Child Will Turn On The 'No'

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Though it may seem impossible, it is true that eating gets to be a bore to children. They haven't the self - consciousness that adults have of eating for nourishment. They also develop temporary likes and dislikes which bother the parent.

Having discovered that they don't want vegetables, they use their all - powerful, no, turn their faces away, spit out any put in in their mouths and completely thwart the parent.

Right now Mrs. F. U.'s little 2-year - old says when he sees a vegetable, "no vegetable," and heretofore he has loved them. "If I put them on his plate," writes his mother, "he throws them on the floor.

WAY TO STYMIE

"In fact he has come to use, 'no sleepy,' and 'no bath,' as well as 'no vegetables,' as an effective way to stymie me. He's quite a little man otherwise and what worries me is whether this refusal of vegetables will upset his good nutrition?"

No, it won't. Vegetables do have valuable minerals and vitamins, some of them have good proteins some are high in carbohydrate. But you can substitute for all of these elements.

Milk, eggs, cheese, nuts, gelatine, all are high in protein so don't worry that he isn't getting that element in peas and beans.

He probably eats lots of bread and butter, crackers, cookies, cereals and maybe potatoes and bananas, all of which are carbohydrates.

SUB FRUITS

Fruits are rich in minerals and vitamins and during this period when he is nursing his dislike for vegetables, just double the quantity of fruits, both raw and cooked, which he gets, and you'll have provided all the elements lost in the vegetables.

This "no" period is a good time to show the child that you respect some of his decisions. This frees him from the necessity to keep on being a no person, just because he has no exercise in the privilege of choice. But when he has to go to bed or have a bath — just see that he does. All children go through this between two and four —and happily, if treated rightly, they outgrow it.

If you would like to have our leaflet "When The Child Says, 'No!'" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 72. Address Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Two Birthdays Are Celebrated With Parties

The table was centered with a Raggedy Ann birthday cake fashioned by Mrs. Maxwell. In keeping with the theme, Miss Suzanne Barrios told the story of Raggedy Ann to the interested little guests. A delicious cold plate was served to the following guests:

Joy Lynn Hammett, Vicky Payne, Connie Ellison, Charlotte Medlin, Jamie Sharp, Cindy and Jan Hopkins, Lynn and Suzie Barrios, Carlo Wood and Jan and Frank Maxwell.

YOUR PROBLEMS

A Wedding Is Sacred-Not For Mere Acquaintances

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: We are plain working people who are having a problem planning our daughter's wedding.

Our future son - in - law is a wonderful boy. His parents are not rich but they are comfortable, upper - middle class people. We got together the other night to talk about the guest list. When Mrs. X handed me the names of over 300 people I was speechless. They want these people invited to the church and to the dinner.

I told Mrs. X I had no idea they had so many relatives and "close friends". She explained that the people on the list are mainly customers. (They own a large clothing store.)

My husband and I don't know what to do. We don't want to start off on bad terms with our daughter's in-laws, but we can't afford to invite all these people to dinner. We've kept our list down for financial reasons. Advice?
STUMPED

A wedding is a religious ceremony and should not be used as a gimmick to entertain customers.

Since you are paying for the wedding and the dinner, it's your privilege to decide how far to go. If these people are bent on exploiting the wedding as a business-booster tell them THEY can give a reception for the whole town when the couple returns from their honeymoon, if they like.

DEAR ANN: I lost my dear husband six months ago and I'm terribly depressed. We had no children and lived only for each other.

I sold my lovely home last month because I couldn't bear to live with the memories. I have a nice apartment now, but I still feel like a fish out of water. My problem is this:

The daughter of a friend was recently divorced. She has two children 10 and 12 years of age. She wants to go back to work although she doesn't need the income. The divorce shook her badly and her doctor advised employment as therapy.

This young women wants me to live in her home and be the housekeeper. I'd like this position and it may be just what I need, too. But my sisters tell me it would be a big come-down for a woman of my fairly high social standing. May I have your opinion? —LISTLESS LAURA.

One need never apologize for doing honest work. This position could offer you satisfaction and a chance to be of service. I say it's worth a try. Keep your apartment intact and take the position on a three -month trial basis. If it doesn't work out, you haven't lost anything. A fine way to bury our troubles is to shovel someone else out of his.

DEAR ANN: I started to go with a man who works with my sister's husband. When we first were introduced he said he was divorced from his wife so I thought it was all right to date him. Now he tells me he is not divorced, just separated, but he plans to make it legal as soon as he gets enough money.

He told me he had two children. A cousin of his recently informed me that he has more than two. How can I get the straight facts on this man without getting either one of us in trouble? Is there a place that has records, like maybe a census bureau? Please help me. —WANDA Leave this man alone. The fact that you must investigate in order to get a straight story on him would be warning enough.

And what difference does it make whether he has two children or a dozen? A man who is separated is still married until he's divorced. Find yourself a boyfriend who knows how to tell the truth. This character has more curves than the New Jersey turnpike.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Though it may seem impossible, it is true that eating gets to be a bore to children. They haven't the self - consciousness that adults have of eating for nourishment. They also develop temporary likes and dislikes which bother the parent.

Having discovered that they don't want vegetables, they use their all - powerful, no, turn their faces away, spit out any put in in their mouths and completely thwart the parent.

Right now Mrs. F. U.'s little 2-year - old says when he sees a vegetable, "no vegetable," and heretofore he has loved them. "If I put them on his plate," writes his mother, "he throws them on the floor.

WAY TO STYMIE

"In fact he has come to use, 'no sleepy,' and 'no bath,' as well as 'no vegetables,' as an effective way to stymie me. He's quite a little man otherwise and what worries me is whether this refusal of vegetables will upset his good nutrition?"

No, it won't. Vegetables do have valuable minerals and vitamins, some of them have good proteins some are high in carbohydrate. But you can substitute for all of these elements.

Milk, eggs, cheese, nuts, gelatine, all are high in protein so don't worry that he isn't getting that element in peas and beans.

He probably eats lots of bread and butter, crackers, cookies, cereals and maybe potatoes and bananas, all of which are carbohydrates.

SUB FRUITS

Fruits are rich in minerals and vitamins and during this period when he is nursing his dislike for vegetables, just double the quantity of fruits, both raw and cooked, which he gets, and you'll have provided all the elements lost in the vegetables.

This "no" period is a good time to show the child that you respect some of his decisions. This frees him from the necessity to keep on being a no person, just because he has no exercise in the privilege of choice. But when he has to go to bed or have a bath — just see that he does. All children go through this between two and four —and happily, if treated rightly, they outgrow it.

If you would like to have our leaflet "When The Child Says, 'No!'" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 72. Address Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

REDS INVADE

Sen. Says Fight By U.S. Definite

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.) said after a meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Friday that the United States "definitely" would fight for the Quemoy and Matsu islands if Red China invades them.

Smith talked with reporters after a half-hour meeting with Dulles who conferred with President Eisenhower at Newport, R. I., Thursday. Asked whether this country had decided to defend the Nationalist-held islands off the China coast, Smith replied:

"Definitely, and it is dead right, too."

Smith refused to say whether Dulles told him of such a firm decision. But he added: "As I said we are defending those islands We are not going in with any aggressive purpose. But if they attack, we'll defend them."

"We have to do that," Smith said. "If we let those down, the whole thing goes." He was referring to the main Nationalist bastions of Formosa and the Pescadores Islands.

Smith, top Republican on the Senate Far East Subcommittee, said he believed the administration would get in touch with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders if the Formosa crisis worsens.

WANTS CONSULTATION

Smith's statement came after Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) called on Eisenhower to consult with confressional leaders before being "carried away" in a decision to fight for the off-shore islands.

Mansfield said the advantages of such action would be "face-saving, prestige and psychology" rather than military importance.

Smith said the United States does not now know what the Communist Chinese will do in view of Thursday's Eisenhower - Dulles warning against any aggressive move. He said increased Chinese military activity in the area "may be a great big bluff."

If it is more than a bluff, he said, "We'll let them know there is some strength behind U. S. assurances to stand by the Chinese Nationalists.

Sheriff Nabs Miss. Whiskey On River Bank

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — Lowndes County Sheriff Robert Jernigan confiscated 10 cases of bonded whiskey found on the bank of the Tombigbee River here Thursday night.

The sheriff said he found the liquor while searching for a man he believed was delivering truckloads of liquor to the Columbus area.

It was stacked in a path behind a rural grocery store and its value was estimated at $1,000. No arrest has been made.

Push Search For Airplane Over Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UPI)—Spurred on by a mysterious radio signal picked up on a Fish and Wildlife radio set, planes took off again Friday in the extensive search for three men missing since Aug. 21.

The radio signal was carried on Thursday on a voice frequency on the Fish and Wildlife Service receiver but no voice transmission accompanied the signal which was picked up on a direct line 235 degrees from Anchorage. It was being checked out by Air Force and civilian planes.

Aboard the missing plane were Clarence Rhode, FWS official from Juneau, his son, Jack, and Stan Frederickson, a Fairbanks FWS agent and a former Idaho fish and game official from Pocatello.

Another possible clue which turned up Thursday proved to be a fizzle. A green flash of light was seen by searching aircraft near Kotzebue, but a thorough check indicated the flash came from the small village of Notak.

An FWS spokesman said that many spot clues have turned up during the search but that none have checked out. He added that the radio signal heard may have come from a fishing vessel on the west coast, near Kotzebue.

Bad weather has hampered the search and Thursday a snowfall in the Brooks Range, the focal point of the search, further curtailed search efforts, which have now been extended past the mountain range.

French Salute Skate Voyage Under Arctic

CHERBOURG, France (UPI) — The U.S. atomic submarine Skate, second submarine to voyage under the North Pole, was saluted by a French honor guard and band when it arrived today on a European goodwill tour. The Skate came here from the Dutch navy port of Den Helder.

At a news conference, her commander, Cmdr. James F. Calvert, of Mystic, Conn., said that on Aug. 17 the Skate cruised "around the globe" by circling tht North Pole at a distance of about two miles, completing the trip in an hour.

"I think that is a world record of some sort," he said, grinning.

Emergency Race Talks Made By Mac

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan held an emergency conference with worried aides Friday on steps to end racial violence in London's slums. An uneasy calm settled over the area Friday after six straight nights of rioting.

Macmillan conferred with Home Secretary R. A. Butler, who is responsible for Britain's internal security; Lord Perth of the Colonial Office, and Cuthbert J. Alport, under - secretary for Commonwealth relations.

Informed sources said they considered sterner police and court action against thugs responsible for the disturbances and a possible ban on unrestricted immigration into Britain of colored workers from the West Indies and other Commonwealth countries.

The latest outbreak occurred Thursday night in Paddington when a gang of white thugs and "teddy boys," Britain's zoot-suited juvenile delinquents, tried to set fire to a house owned by a colored family from Jamaica.

Britain Shows Concern Over Border Move

LONDON (UPI)—Britain announced Friday that it shared fully the concern of the United States over any Communist Chinese attempt to impose territorial changes by force and rejected Peiping's decision to extend the sea border to 12 miles.

"The British government do not recognize territorial waters of more than three miles," the Foreign Office spokesman said.

In a prepared statement, the Foreign Office announced: "Her Majesty's government fully share the concern of the government of the United States at any attempt to impose territorial changes by use of force."

Britain's views on territorial limits were made clear to the Chinese in 1951 in unpublished diplomatic correspondence between the two governments, the spokesman said, adding that the Red Chinese government at the time "took note" of the British view.

Replying to questions, the Foreign Office spokesman said Britain's position on the Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu was unchanged. That position, as stated in 1955 by then Prime Minister Anthony Eden, was that the islands were considered by the British as part of the mainland but that there should be no change by use of force.

CPA's Hear Talk By Supervisor Of Public Funds

The Monroe Chapter of Certified Public Accountants heard J B. Lancaster, supervisor of public funds for the state of Louisiana, explain his departments methods of auditing Thursday night.

Meeting at the Bayou DeSiard country club, Lancaster explained in detail the audit techniques used in the auditing of public funds. Less emphasis, he said, is placed on the profit-loss aspect and more attention given to accountability of funds and compliance with laws governing the various agencies.

Lancaster related a brief history of his department, adding that Gov. Earl Long has been most cooperative. He said his department has been able to operate on a "high plane of independence" in its auditing of state and local governmental agencies.

Special Class Sign-Up Set At Northeast

Registration for all late afternoon, evening and Saturday classes at Northeast State College will be held Saturday, Sept. 13 from 8-11 a. m. assistant professor John L. Luffey announced yesterday.

Luffey, recently named coordinator for all special classes, said the college plans to expand evening and Saturday classes to meet the demands of the public. The classes are offered for those who are employed and cannot attend during regular class times.

A meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday in the Amphitheater for everyone interested in forming additional classes, Luffey said.

Bastrop Man Fined $1,000 On 4 Counts

Judge Ben C. Dawkins added a five-year unsupervised probation sentence to the fine levied on Julius R. White Jr. A $500 penalty was suspended.

Federal agents reportedly arrested White as he was loading a small plane with liquor to be transported to Mississippi. The plane, liquor and delivery truck were confiscated by the agents. The airplane was the property of a Mississippi man.

White was charged with operating a business as a wholesale liquor dealer without having paid the special tax required, failure to display a sign as a wholesale liquor dealer, possession of 71 cases of liquor for use in violation of the law, and operating a wholesale liquor business without a basic permit.

White, arrested earlier this year on charges connected with illegal whisky sales including transportation of liquor in interstate commerce by airplane in violation of federal statutes, had pleaded guilty to four counts of violations before Judge Dawkins earlier in Shreveport.

Motion on civil matters occupied the rest of the court docket.

NEW RULING

Acreage Limits Up 40 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced Friday that cotton growers will be permitted, under a new program, to exceed their 1959 cotton planting allotments by 40 per cent.

Farmers will be permitted this choice, but if they take it, will be eligible for price supports at 15 per cent of parity below supports extended to producers who comply with allotments.

Supports for the latter will be not less than 80 per cent of parity. The exact support level will be announced later. This year's crop is being supported at 81 per cent.

This choice program was authorized by recent action of Congress. It gave growers a choice between exceeding allotments up to 40 per cent and sticking by allotments. The new law directed the department to set the precise percentage by which allotments might be exceeded. It did this today.

The national allotment will be about 16,310,000 acres compared with 17,600,000 this year and about 13,150,001 which would have been in effect next year had Congress not passed the new legislation.

If all growers planted the maximum allowed by the new program, total plantings next year would be upwards of 23 million acres.

This year's acreage was cut to slightly less than 4 million acres, reflecting the fact that a part of the allotted acreage was held out of producion under a soil bank payment program expiring this year.

Criticizes Union Loan As Business

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee Friday cited a defaulted million dollar teamsters loan as a prime example of how not to do business.

He referred to a complicated 1955 deal in which the union used money from its welfare fund to back a real estate development in Flint, Mich.

The committee has heard testimony that the recipient of the loan, the Winchester Development Co. of Detroit, paid $104,000 in interest, but defaulted on the principal.

The union is now foreclosing in an effort to recoup some of the loss. The committee estimated the union might be out about $700,000 but teamster attorney George S. Fitzgerald told newsmen it would make out much better than that.

The committee also brought on Thursday that Fitzgerald and two other attorneys split a $35,000 fee from the company which obtained the loan.

There was some question as to whether they got the fee for legal work or for steering the company to the welfare fund as a source of investment capital.

McClellan said Friday that the record of the loan "might well be used as a text in high finance, showing the way things shouldn't be done."

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Fitzgerald would be called upon to explain the deal when hearings resume next Tuesday. He said the promoters — Abe Green and Jack Winshall, partners in the real estate venture — also may testify.

Kennedy indicated the questioning would involve the role teamster President James R. Hoffa played in the deal. The committee said Hoffa attended the meeting of welfare fund trustees at which the Winchester loan was approved.

The committee also may try to determine why Fitzgerald modified the loan agreement, enabling the company to use the money for other purposes, such as buying a bull and 19 cows.

A third question which may be gone into is why the company sold a parcel of land for $10,000 and then repurchased it for $50,000. Kennedy said the company used phony invoices to obtain the $50,000 from the loan fund.

Charter Issued To Monroe Area Business Firm

Louisiana Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr. announced one domestic charter and one amendment to a charter for businesses in the Monroe area have been filed with his office.

Covering the period August 27 through Sept. 2, the domestic charter was issued to Cannon Furniture Co. Inc., of Newlelton, with a capitl of $10,000. The amendment was for Adcock, Booth and Boles Inc., Monroe, changing the name to Mid-South Realty, Inc.

Ike Lolls On 7th Day Of Vacation

This afternoon he played bridge at the cream-colored summer White House on the Fort Adams Military Reservation.

Saturday the President will travel by airplane to Washington. He is expected to return in the evening after serving as host to a White House reception for a group of college presidents of the American Assn. of Universities.

While in Washington he will confer with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles about the serious Far East situation and is expected to make several appointments.

REDS INVADE

Sen. Says Fight By U.S. Definite

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.) said after a meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Friday that the United States "definitely" would fight for the Quemoy and Matsu islands if Red China invades them.

Smith talked with reporters after a half-hour meeting with Dulles who conferred with President Eisenhower at Newport, R. I., Thursday. Asked whether this country had decided to defend the Nationalist-held islands off the China coast, Smith replied:

"Definitely, and it is dead right, too."

Smith refused to say whether Dulles told him of such a firm decision. But he added: "As I said we are defending those islands. We are not going in with any aggressive purpose. But if they attack, we'll defend them."

"We have to do that," Smith said. "If we let those down, the whole thing goes." He was referring to the main Nationalist bastions of Formosa and the Pescadores Islands.

Smith, top Republican on the Senate Far East Subcommittee, said he believed the administration would get in touch with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders if the Formosa crisis worsens.

WANTS CONSULTATION

Smith's statement came after Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) called on Eisenhower to consult with confressional leaders before being "carried away" in a decision to fight for the off-shore islands.

Mansfield said the advantages of such action would be "face-saving, prestige and psychology" rather than military importance.

Smith said the United States does not now know what the Communist Chinese will do in view of Thursday's Eisenhower - Dulles warning against any aggressive move. He said increased Chinese military activity in the area "may be a great big bluff."

If it is more than a bluff, he said, "We'll let them know there is some strength behind U. S. assurances to stand by the Chinese Nationalists.

Push Search For Airplane Over Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UPI)—Spurred on by a mysterious radio signal picked up on a Fish and Wildlife radio set, planes took off again Friday in the extensive search for three men missing since Aug. 21.

The radio signal was carried on Thursday on a voice frequency on the Fish and Wildlife Service receiver but no voice transmission accompanied the signal which was picked up on a direct line 235 degrees from Anchorage. It was being checked out by Air Force and civilian planes.

Aboard the missing plane were Clarence Rhode, FWS official from Juneau, his son, Jack, and Stan Frederickson, a Fairbanks FWS agent and a former Idaho fish and game official from Pocatello.

They were flying in a twin-engine Grumman Goose, an amphibious craft.

Another possible clue which turned up Thursday proved to be a fizzle. A green flash of light was seen by searching aircraft near Kotzebue, but a thorough check indicated the flash came from the small village of Notak.

An FWS spokesman said that many spot clues have turned up during the search but that none have checked out. He added that the radio signal heard may have come from a fishing vessel on the west coast, near Kotzebue.

Bad weather has hampered the search and Thursday a snowfall in the Brooks Range, the focal point of the search, further curtailed search efforts, which have now been extended past the mountain range.

Sheriff Nabs Miss. Whiskey On River Bank

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — Lowndes County Sheriff Robert Jernigan confiscated 10 cases of bonded whiskey found on the bank of the Tombigbee River here Thursday night.

The sheriff said he found the liquor while searching for a man he believed was delivering truckloads of liquor to the Columbus area.

It was stacked in a path behind a rural grocery store and its value was estimated at $1,000. No arrest has been made.

French Salute Skate Voyage Under Arctic

CHERBOURG, France (UPI) — The U.S. atomic submarine Skate, second submarine to voyage under the North Pole, was saluted by a French honor guard and band when it arrived today on a European goodwill tour. The Skate came here from the Dutch navy port of Den Helder.

At a news conference, her commander, Cmdr. James F. Calvert, of Mystic, Conn., said that on Aug. 17 the Skate cruised "around the globe" by circling tht North Pole at a distance of about two miles, completing the trip in an hour.

"I think that is a world record of some sort," he said, grinning.

Emergency Race Talks Made By Mac

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan held an emergency conference with worried aides Friday on steps to end racial violence in London's slums. An uneasy calm settled over the area Friday after six straight nights of rioting.

Macmillan conferred with Home Secretary R. A. Butler, who is responsible for Britain's internal security; Lord Perth of the Colonial Office, and Cuthbert J. Alport, under - secretary for Commonwealth relations.

Informed sources said they considered sterner police and court action against thugs responsible for the disturbances and a possible ban on unrestricted immigration into Britain of colored workers from the West Indies and other Commonwealth countries.

The latest outbreak occurred Thursday night in Paddington when a gang of white thugs and "teddy boys," Britain's zoot-suited juvenile delinquents, tried to set fire to a house owned by a colored family from Jamaica.

Two policemen who entered the house to put out the flames, had to barricade themselves in until reinforcements arrived to break up the bottle-throwing crowd of more than 100 persons who massed outside.

Britain Shows Concern Over Border Move

LONDON (UPI)—Britain announced Friday that it shared fully the concern of the United States over any Communist Chinese attempt to impose territorial changes by force and rejected Peiping's decision to extend the sea border to 12 miles.

"The British government do not recognize territorial waters of more than three miles," the Foreign Office spokesman said.

In a prepared statement, the Foreign Office announced: "Her Majesty's government fully share the concern of the government of the United States at any attempt to impose territorial changes by use of force."

Britain's views on territorial limits were made clear to the Chinese in 1951 in unpublished diplomatic correspondence between the two governments, the spokesman said, adding that the Red Chinese government at the time "took note" of the British view.

Replying to questions, the Foreign Office spokesman said Britain's position on the Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu was unchanged. That position, as stated in 1955 by then Prime Minister Anthony Eden, was that the islands were considered by the British as part of the mainland but that there should be no change by use of force.

CPA's Hear Talk By Supervisor Of Public Funds

The Monroe Chapter of Certified Public Accountants heard J B. Lancaster, supervisor of public funds for the state of Louisiana, explain his departments methods of auditing Thursday night.

Meeting at the Bayou DeSiard country club, Lancaster explained in detail the audit techniques used in the auditing of public funds. Less emphasis, he said, is placed on the profit-loss aspect and more attention given to accountability of funds and compliance with laws governing the various agencies.

Lancaster related a brief history o his department, adding that Gov. Earl Long has been most cooperative. He said his department has been able to operate on a "high plane of independence" in its auditing of state and local governmental agencies.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Saratoga Leaves Lebanon; Headed For Naples, Italy

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga left the Lebanon area Friday and headed for Naples.

A Navy spokesman said the purpose of the trip was recreation for the crew. The carrier's planes have been flying reconnaisance missions over Lebanon since Marines landed in July.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Negro Enters Habeas Corpus In Rape Case

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A Negro condemned to death two years ago for aggravated rape filed a habeas corpus petition in District Court Friday charging he is being unlawfully imprisoned.

The prisoner is Emilie Weston Jr.

The petition said court proceedings leading to his sentence "failed completely to meet the requirements of the state and federal constitutions, particularly the due process and equal protection clauses."

The petition said Weston is innocent. He was convicted in October, 1956, after a Baton Rouge woman accused Weston of raping her.

The Negro applied for a commutation of sentence by the State Pardon Board May 30, 1957, but was turned down.

The execution date later was set for May 2, but a federal judge granted a stay of execution pending a review.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Saratoga Leaves Lebanon; Headed For Naples, Italy

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga left the Lebanon area Friday and headed for Naples.

A Navy spokesman said the purpose of the trip was recreation for the crew. The carrier's planes have been flying reconnaisance missions over Lebanon since Marines landed in July.

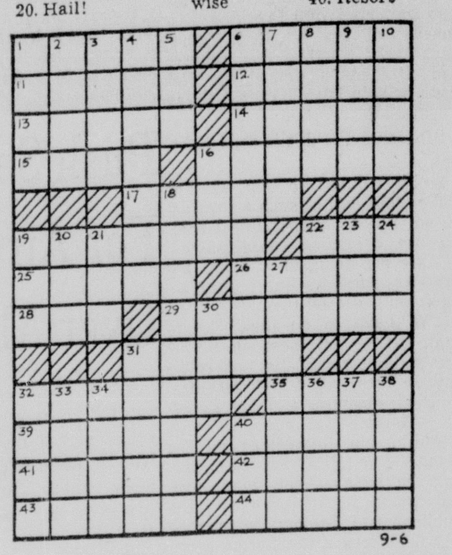
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Negro Enters Habeas Corpus In Rape Case

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A Negro condemned to death two years ago for aggravated rape filed a habeas corpus petition in District Court Friday charging he is being unlawfully imprisoned.

The prisoner is Emilie Weston Jr.

The petition said court proceedings leading to his sentence "failed completely to meet the requirements of the state and federal constitutions, particularly the due process and equal protection clauses."

The petition said Weston is innocent. He was convicted in October, 1956, after a Baton Rouge woman accused Weston of raping her.

The Negro applied for a commutation of sentence by the State Pardon Board May 30, 1957, but was turned down.

The execution date later was set for May 2, but a federal judge granted a stay of execution pending a review.

Thieves Steal Merchandise; Big Money Haul

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Thieves broke into a hardware store and a supermarket here Friday and got away with merchandise and money totaling more than $2,700.

Thieves Steal Merchandise; Big Money Haul

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Thieves broke into a hardware store and a supermarket here Friday and got away with merchandise and money totaling more than $2,700.

COTTON

The average estimate of 67 members of the New York Cotton Exchange was 11,869,000 bales compared with official August forecast of 11,583,000 bales.

Reports that the gulf hurricane is now headed for the central Texas coast brought some covering in futures. Traders thought that extensive rains might lower the grades of cotton.

Prices moved irregularly lower toward the close as profit taking me. only scale down buying support. Futures closed 20 cents a bale lower to 15 cents higher than the previous close.

Claytons Brokers were modest buyers of the old crop months with futures advancing modestly early in the day. However, commission house liquidation and trade hedge selling prior to the close erased most of the gains.

Members of the New York Cotton Exchange estimated that the Sept. 1 crop report which will be announced on Monday will be 11,869,000 bales vs. the Aug. 11 estimate of 11,583,000 bales. Certificated stock as of Sept. 4 totalled 42,183 bales compared with 38,890 the previous day.

Tht weather in the South was mostly favorable. The grey goods market was steady with prices about unchanged.

TRANSACTIONS

Yesterday the market moved sidewise to pennies lower as fractional losses predominated. Industrials, due largely to a 52 cent dividend clip, closed off 7 cents at 512.77. Rails were off 69 cents at noon, moved sideways, off 60 cents at 132.43. Utilities closed ahead 22 cents at 79.27.

DRUGS

Parke Davis added one and a half and Smith Kline and French gained one and an eighth. Kodak was a feature in little changed chemicals as it added three and three-quarters to a new high. Chemtron added one and five - eighths. Western Union was in demand, up one and three eighths to a new high.

OILS

Oils were generally mixed by minimum fractions, though Phillips slipped one and Ohio lost three-quarters while Richfield added two and a quarter. Rubbers were mixed with Firestone, up four and three-quarters. Emerson Electric gained over one. Aircraft and airlines were restrained generally, losing small fractions.

STEELS

Steels showed moderate changes with Youngstown up a half while J and L lost three - eighths. Coppers lost fractions to one in Kennecott. Aluminums were mixed with Alcoa up five - eighths while Kaiser lost three - eighths. Westinghouse was off three - eighths in little changed electronics.

MOTORS

Motors were changed by eighths and building shares were neglected with Johns Manville up a half. Papers showed little movement with International off three-eighths while Union Bag added three-quarters. Rails favored fractional losses of the quarter point variety.

WOOL LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

In active trading, futures advanced about one and a half cents on trade short covering and new commission house and trade buying with commission house profit taking and new trade hedge selling supplying the contracts.

A better tone in actuals business overseas and continued uncertainty in the Far East provided the impetus for yesterday's strength. The undertone in the market was firm throughout the day with trading orderly and prices closing near their highs for the day

There were no auctions held in Australia yesterday while South Africa reported unchanged prices. Some overseas trade sources reported a sizable pickup in actuals business and fairly heavy short covering against short actuals and futures positions by trade sources.

Futures appeared to be discounting a better tone at the Australian auction on Monday. London futures in heavy trading closed near their highs for the day, up one to one and a half pence.

Crude Stocks At Low Level Bureau Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. stocks of crude oil dropped to 246,749,000 barrels last week. It was the lowest weekly level since they stood at 245,815,000 barrels on July 7, 1951, the Bureau of Mines reported Friday.

There was a net decrease of 1,292,000 barrels during the week ended Aug. 30. Domestic crude decreased 3,168,000. Foreign crude decreased 1,124,000.

Daily average production was 6,863,000 barrels, a decrease of 12,000. Runs to stills averaged 7,937,000, an increase of 45,000.

Stocks, by grade or origin, and change from previous week (in thousands of barrels) included:

Northern Louisiana 2,886 Dec 78; Gulf Coast Louisiana 13,881 inc 177; Mississippi, Alabama and Florida 2,624 inc 85; East Texas 7,895 inc 182; West Texas 50,153 dec 525; Gulf Texas 17,977 dec 95; other Texas 25,870 dec 547.

BONDS

Utilities, investment quality corporates and rails all were lower with some fairly wide losses.

LIVFSTOCK

CHICAGO, (AP) — The heaviest Friday supply since in May hit the butcher hog market and prices were steady to 25 cents lower. The offerings of 6,500 head were 2,000 more than expected.

The $20.35 top was paid more liberally however. It went for a few lots of 200-225 lb sorted No. 1s and a few selected 230-240 pounders. The mixed 1s and 2s in the 200-225 lb range brought $20.10-20.25 while the mixed 1-3 grades weighing 195-225 lbs were $19.75-20.10. A few 290 lb strictly No. 3s were $20.

Offerings of slaughter steers and heifers were too scant to make a test of prices. A few head of good to choice steers sold at $24.50-27.50 and a few high and choice heifers at $24.50-26.

Vealers were steady and bulls steady to weak. The good vealers brought $29-32, utility and standard $19-29, and utility and commercial bulls $21-24.

Prime spring slaughter lambs moved at $25.25-25.50 with prices strong. The good to choice grades were $21-24.50 and shorn ewes $6-8 for cull to choice kinds.

COTTON

The average estimate of 67 members of the New York Cotton Exchange was 11,869,000 bales compared with official August forecast of 11,583,000 bales.

Reports that the gulf hurricane is now headed for the central Texas coast brought some covering in futures. Traders thought that extensive rains might lower the grades of cotton.

Prices moved irregularly lower toward the close as profit taking me. only scale down buying support. Futures closed 20 cents a bale lower to 15 cents higher than the previous close.

COTTON LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

Claytons Brokers were modest buyers of the old crop months with futures advancing modestly early in the day. However, commission house liquidation and trade hedge selling prior to the close erased most of the gains.

Members of the New York Cotton Exchange estimated that the Sept. 1 crop report which will be announced on Monday will be 11,869,000 bales vs. the Aug. 11 estimate of 11,583,000 bales. Certificated stock as of Sept. 4 totalled 42,183 bales compared with 38,890 the previous day.

Tht weather in the South was mostly favorable. The grey goods market was steady with prices about unchanged.

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

In active trading, futures advanced about one and a half cents on trade short covering and new commission house and trade buying with commission house profit taking and new trade hedge selling supplying the contracts.

A better tone in actuals business overseas and continued uncertainty in the Far East provided the impetus for yesterday's strength. The undertone in the market was firm throughout the day with trading orderly and prices closing near their highs for the day.

There were no auctions held in Australia yesterday while South Africa reported unchanged prices. Some overseas trade sources reported a sizable pickup in actuals business and fairly heavy short covering against short actuals and futures positions by trade sources.

Futures appeared to be discounting a better tone at the Australian auction on Monday. London futures in heavy trading closed near their highs for the day, up one to one and a half pence.

TICKER TAPE HIGHLIGHTS

TRANSACTIONS

Yesterday the market moved sidewise to pennies lower as fractional losses predominated. Industrials, due largely to a 52 cent dividend clip, closed off 7 cents at 512.77. Rails were off 69 cents at noon, moved sideways, off 60 cents at 132.43. Utilities closed ahead 22 cents at 79.27.

DRUGS

Parke Davis added one and a half and Smith Kline and French gained one and an eighth. Kodak was a feature in little changed chemicals as it added three and three-quarters to a new high. Chemtron added one and five - eighths. Western Union was in demand, up one and three eighths to a new high.

OILS

Oils were generally mixed by minimum fractions, though Phillips slipped one and Ohio lost three-quarters while Richfield added two and a quarter. Rubbers were mixed with Firestone, up four and three-quarters. Emerson Electric gained over one. Aircraft and airlines were restrained generally, losing small fractions.

STEELS

Steels showed moderate changes with Youngstown up a half while J and L lost three - eighths. Coppers lost fractions to one in Kennecott. Aluminums were mixed with Alcoa up five - eighths while Kaiser lost three - eighths. Westinghouse was off three - eighths in little changed electronics.

MOTORS

Motors were changed by eighths and building shares were neglected with Johns Manville up a half. Papers showed little movement with International off three-eighths while Union Bag added three-quarters. Rails favored fractional losses of the quarter point variety.

Heavy rains and wind squalls will prevail over Louisiana and eastern and southern Texas. Light rain is slated to fall over eastern Minnesota. Rest of the nation should have clear to partly cloudy skies. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Crude Stocks At Low Level Bureau Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. stocks of crude oil dropped to 246,749,000 barrels last week. It was the lowest weekly level since they stood at 245,815,000 barrels on July 7, 1951, the Bureau of Mines reported Friday.

There was a net decrease of 4,292,000 barrels during the week ended Aug. 30. Domestic crude decreased 3,168,000. Foreign crude decreased 1,124,000.

Daily average production was 6,863,000 barrels, a decrease of 12,000. Runs to stills averaged 7,937,000, an increase of 45,000.

Stocks, by grade or origin, and change from previous week (in thousands of barrels) included:

Northern Louisiana 2,886 Dec 78; Gulf Coast Louisiana 13,881 inc 177; Mississippi, Alabama and Florida 2,624 inc 85; East Texas 7,895 inc 182; West Texas 50,153 dec 525; Gulf Texas 17,977 dec 95; other Texas 25,870 dec 547.

BONDS

Utilities, investment quality corporates and rails all were lower with some fairly wide losses.

LIVFSTOCK

CHICAGO, (AP) — The heaviest Friday supply since in May hit the butcher hog market and prices were steady to 25 cents lower. The offerings of 6,500 head were 2,000 more than expected.

The $20.35 top was paid more liberally ,however. It went for a few lots of 200-225 lb sorted No. 1s and a few selected 230-240 pounders. The mixed 1s and 2s in the 200-225 lb range brought $20.10-20.25 while the mixed 1-3 grades weighing 195-225 lbs were $19.75-20.10. A few 290 lb strictly No. 3s were $20.

Offerings of slaughter steers and heifers were too scant to make a test of prices. A few head of good to choice steers sold at $24.50-27.50 and a few high and choice heifers at $24.50-26.

Vealers were steady and bulls steady to weak. The good vealers brought $29-32, utility and standard $19-29, and utility and commercial bulls $21-24.

Prime spring slaughter lambs moved at $25.25-25.50 with prices strong. The good to choice grades were $21-24.50 and shorn ewes $6-8 for cull to choice kinds.
